Home still is No. 1 savings

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

"The northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin area can do nothing but grow in the next five years," says Randy Miles, president of the State Bank of Antioch.

He adds that the area is on the corridor of growth that is running north from Libertyville and Mundelein, through

Randy Miles

Grayslake, Lindenhurst and Lake Villa, to Antioch.

"In 1989, we saw a steady increase in commercial and consumer lending but the most rapid increase came in mortgage lending, and despite all the investments available, when it comes to looking at John Q Public's worth, the biggest single investment remains the home he owns," added Miles.

The bank has financed more new construction, refinanced existing home construction and in many cases, financed second rental homes, on an increased basis in the last year.

"In the last three years there has been a big move towards money market accounts instead of having separate savings and checking accounts," said Miles, explaining that the money deposited draws interest while three checks a month can be written on the account.

In other words, people are leaning towards the interest bearing checking account.

In the area serviced by the State Bank, which includes Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Fox Lake and southeastern Wisconsin, "We probably make three boat loans to every car loan," said Miles, reflecting the location in the lakes' area.

Enhancing campfire skills

With the below average snowfall this winter season, Lakeland Area outdoorsmen, both young and old have had to find alternative activities or hobbies to enjoy the winter season. Snowmobilers and sledgers have remained dormant, but snowfall earlier this week has given them flickering hope there will be more to come. Here, Boy Scouts brave the cold, but dry outdoors while enhancing their campfire skills during Klondike Derby festivities. —Photo by John Vance

Loon Lake residents against tax

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

It was thought that most of the residents living around East and West Loon Lakes in Antioch Twp. were in favor of the creation of the Special Service Area 8 to raise monies through special assessments for the cleanup of the lakes.

At first, it appeared that that the biggest opposition to Lake County's creation of this taxing district could be found in the Eagles Nest subdivision. Residents and the developer of the subdivision claim they have no lake rights and should not be assessed for living near two lakes they are separated from by Rte. 83.

But the county says that the subdivision is in the water shed, sending fertilizer from its soil into the lakes.

If such drainage makes homeowners responsible for the cleanup of the lakes, unconfirmed reports have drainage and sewage going into Deep Lake in Lake Villa Twp. and eventually ending up in the Loon Lakes after running from lake to lake through channels.

Since the only way to stop this service area's implementation is to get a petition signed by 51 percent of the property owners in the area and 51 percent of the registered voters in the area and file it with the county clerk's office by the end of March, the petition is being passed.

According to Loon Lakes' resident Edmund Roberts, one of the members of the 12 homeowners' associations in the area who is working on gathering signatures for the petition, most of the people he has contacted in the Laguna area are against the service area.

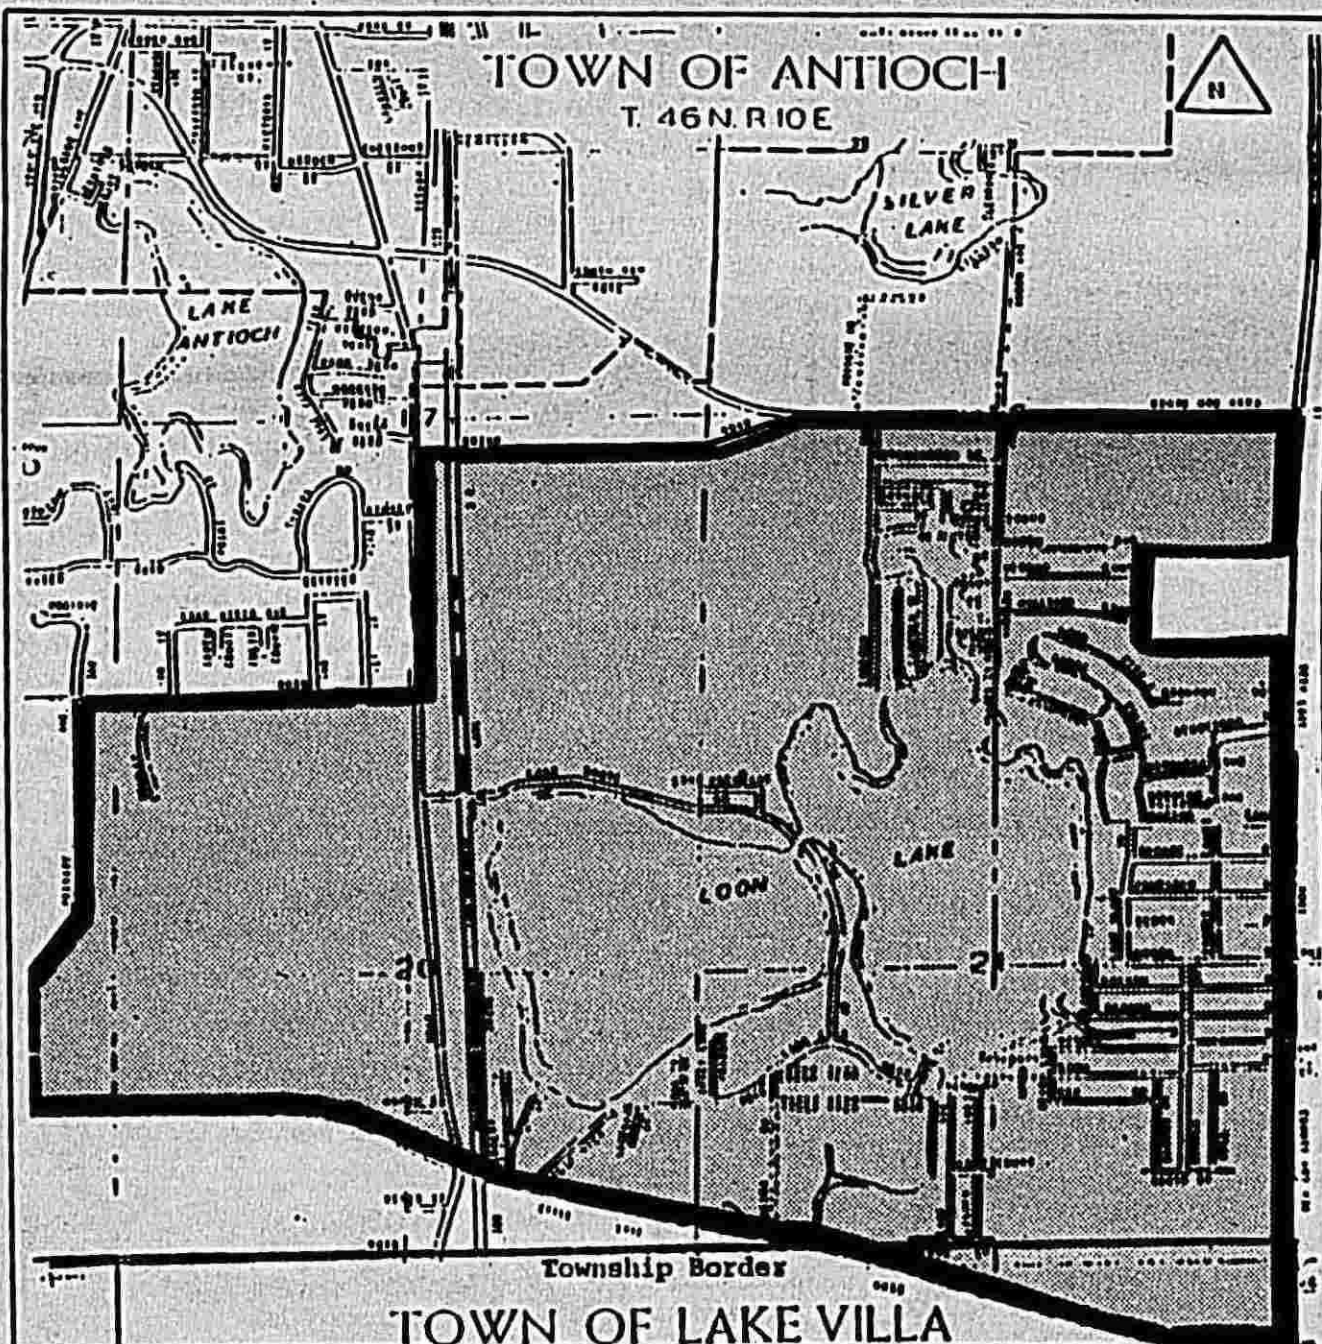

"We're still paying for the weed harvester," adds Roberts.

"I think we will get the necessary signatures in time, but the county has made this as difficult as possible. Much of this property is owned by absentee landlords who are hard to get in touch with."

Absentee landlords must have signatures on the petition sent through the mail notarized. He added that the signature of both husband and wife can be signed once for each lot they own. Many people own a multitude of lots.

According to Nick Tiester, the Loon Lakes resident who spearheaded the purchase of a weed harvester to clean the lakes up a few years ago and who also went to the county and got the taxing district idea started, many are for the service area.

Reports are that the creation of the taxing district would allow the county to give public access to the lakes, a fact that has just surfaced.

Proposed Special Service Area No. 8

ACT

Antioch Community High School will once again offer an ACT preparation course. All areas of the test will be covered: English usage, reading, math usage and science reasoning, as well as a session on the college selection process. The course will familiarize the student with the organization and content of the test, sharpen the student's test-taking skills, and enable the student to budget time well. The course cannot increase a student's score dramatically; it could only help him do his best. The class will begin with a pre-test on Wednesday, Feb. 21 at 6:30 p.m. The remaining sessions will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m. Students will receive a schedule the first evening. Tuition and fees are $20. Students must turn in enrollment forms and their money to the College-Career Center by Monday, Feb. 19.

GS Cookies

Antioch and Lindenhurst are Girl Scouts will be out and about selling the ever famous Girl Scout cookies. Many merchants in the area have generously allowed the girls to sell in front of their business. They will be selling Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays through February and March 2, 3, and 4. There are seven different types of cookies to suit everyone's taste. The cookies are $2.50 per box. Profits from cookie sales help many girls go to camp and also help the Girl Scout Councils.

Task force

The Communities Task Force on Drugs/Alcohol met for the first time on Jan. 31. This task force has been formed to join together efforts from combined communities to combat the problems caused by drugs/alcohol in our area. Representatives from Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst met for an organizational meeting to discuss ideas, concerns and to establish direction in this difficult task. The committee will meet again in February with possible representation from other communities to discuss goals and to receive some basic education in substance abuse.

'Not My Kid'

"Not My Kid" are the three most dangerous words a parent can say. Betsy Houghton will explain why those words are so dangerous for parents to say at the Parent Awareness Night on Thursday, Feb. 22 at 7 p.m. in the ACHS Commons when she presents, "A Survival Kit for Parenting in the 90's." Houghton is a pioneer in the parent and community role in drug prevention and intervention. She has been featured on "CBS Evening News" and in "McCall's Magazine." As president of her own company, she has helped parents and professionals set up prevention programs for parents of children of all ages. Plan to attend and join other parents who want to know how to help their children grow into healthy, happy, drug free adults. This program is sponsored by the ACHS Student Assistant Program to begin a parent network in our school system.

Extend Orchard

Led by Mayor Robert Wilton, the Antioch Village Board has set the extending of Orchard St. east to Main St. and on to Depot St. as its No. 1 priority. The decision was made after a traffic study was completed. The plan is to relieve traffic congestion in the village's retail area. The cost is estimated to run from $1 million to $1.5 million.

Hold 'thank you' dinner for 'Footlights' helpers

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Footlights

One of the traditions in our "Hometown" is the annual "Footlight" production at St. Peter's Church. In order to produce this terrific fun-filled fund raiser each year, an awful lot of nice people have to give of their time and energies. On Saturday, Jan. 20, a big thank you dinner party was held in the school gym in order to thank all who helped make "Footlights '89" such a huge success. Our own hard working, energetic, Marie Brausam, was in charge of organizing this thank you dinner party. Marie tells me that she could not do it alone and had to seek help from a lot of people in order to coordinate this gala affair. The food preparation was made a lot easier as Marie solicited the help of Gayle Milowski and her excellent cooking expertise. Gayle devoted her day off as cook at GLS in order to help Marie prepare the food for literally hundreds of people. Linda Pederson helped by giving Marie an abundance of information and getting the many supplies together, while Phil Delany helped set up the refreshments, ice, et. Tom and David Milowski set up all of the tables and decorations and Tricia Olenick and Patti Santiemmo filled the beautiful helium balloons.

Once the food was prepared and the gym was decorated, many people had to be on hand to help run the rest of the evening. Special thanks in this department goes to Darlene and Bob Olenick, Gary and Julie Groh, Pat and Tony Santiemmo, Ardeen and Jim Harris, Cindy Marquart, Tricia Olenick, and Sandy Chinn.

Last but not least, Marie found her husband, Ray's, help to be invaluable. She managed to keep him busy from 9 a.m. Saturday until 3 a.m. Sunday. A big thank you to everyone from Marie for helping.

While everyone worked hard to make this evening so successful, the workers were also able to enjoy the festivities of the evening along side the many guests of honor. Everyone kicked up their heels in dance to the Dancin' Machine I. Marie noticed Laurel Dahl was wearing a casual outfit and when she noticed her rolling and pounding on the floor to the song "Wipe year's production. Marie would like to say thank you, one more time, to the "Footlights '89" workers and committee people, and good luck to the coordinators of "Footlights '90." Marie told me she be waiting to hear from you with an occasional up date on the life of Mary Ann Drinkwine Thompson. It is nice to see one of our little birds staying so close to the nest.

Wrong Words

Please bear with me while I rattle on about someone who has been in the column quite a bit lately. This someone is none other than my dear friend, Sally Blummer Hiller. I spent a good portion of this past Saturday laughing because of Sally's recent slips of the tongue. First of all, Sal, I want you to know that I am not laughing at you, but with you. I too am notorious for using the wrong word ad the wrong time--remember "orderbs?" However, that night at the board meeting when you came up with "compilization," was only the beginning. When you then referred to a very prominent person by the wrong name, I laughed a little harder. I thought the frosting on the cake, in my laughter department, was when you referred to skate board "copers" as "couplings," but I was wrong. I am still laughing about "the light bulb dawning" on you. They say laughter is good for the soul, and they (whoever they are) are 100 percent right. Thanks for being you and thanks for putting up with my laughter.

GLS Honors

A big hip hip hooray from the Lizard to the following Grass Lake School junior high students for making the second quarter honor roll. Sixth grade: Jamie Brausam, Kelley Brausam, Charissa Caez, Colin Dent, Kari Fehrenbacher, Matt Fleming, John Hudson, Jeff LaForge, Greg Laube, Walter Martens, Heather Mastalerz, Holly Mastalerz, Tammy Mazzuca, Crystal O'Brien, Lisa Priller, Gina Rossi, Anna Weiler, Brandie Wennerstrom and Mamie Wemeske.

Seventh grade: Beth Boerman, Angela Burke, Heather Burke, Wendy Charvat, Josh Fleming, Jeff Fleshman, Rhonda Garwood, Alex Grob, Brandi Houle, Susie Johnson, Jenny Laube, Brad Priller, and Jamie Ulm.

Eighth grade: Ali Arnold, Mike Bradley, Karen Celkis, Alicia Corcoran, Amy Dogan, Tony Gardin, Clarissa Kasprzak, Dan Kick, April Kleich, Jenny Kocal, Jenny Mosier, Will O'Donnell, Vicky Quinlan, Karen Rogers, Jenny Santiemmo, and Jessica Stella. What a way to go, Grass Lakers! Keep up the good work!

Notice

Here is another "did you every notice" from the Lizard. Well, people, did you every notice how often the appearance of people changes over the years? Now, I am not talking about a weight problem or anything like that. I mean take a look at a new born baby and then compare the looks of that new born at one year old. Next compare the appearance of the one year old at the age of 10. When this same person turns 20 see how he/she has changed since being 10. Then take that 20-year-old and see what he/she looks like at 40. Last see how that 40-year-old looks at 80. I just realized that in a average life time people's looks automatically changes about a half dozen times. Am I right? On the other hand take a dog. While there is a drastic change from the dog's initial appearance at birth and again about six months old, there is very little change in the appearance of a dog at age six months to 17 years or so. Don't ask me why I think about these things or notice them. I just do. I can't explain the reasoning of my thought patterns. On the other hand, I can tell you why I share these "odd but true" thoughts with you.

Hometown Goodies

Out," she understood why Laurel decided not to over dress.

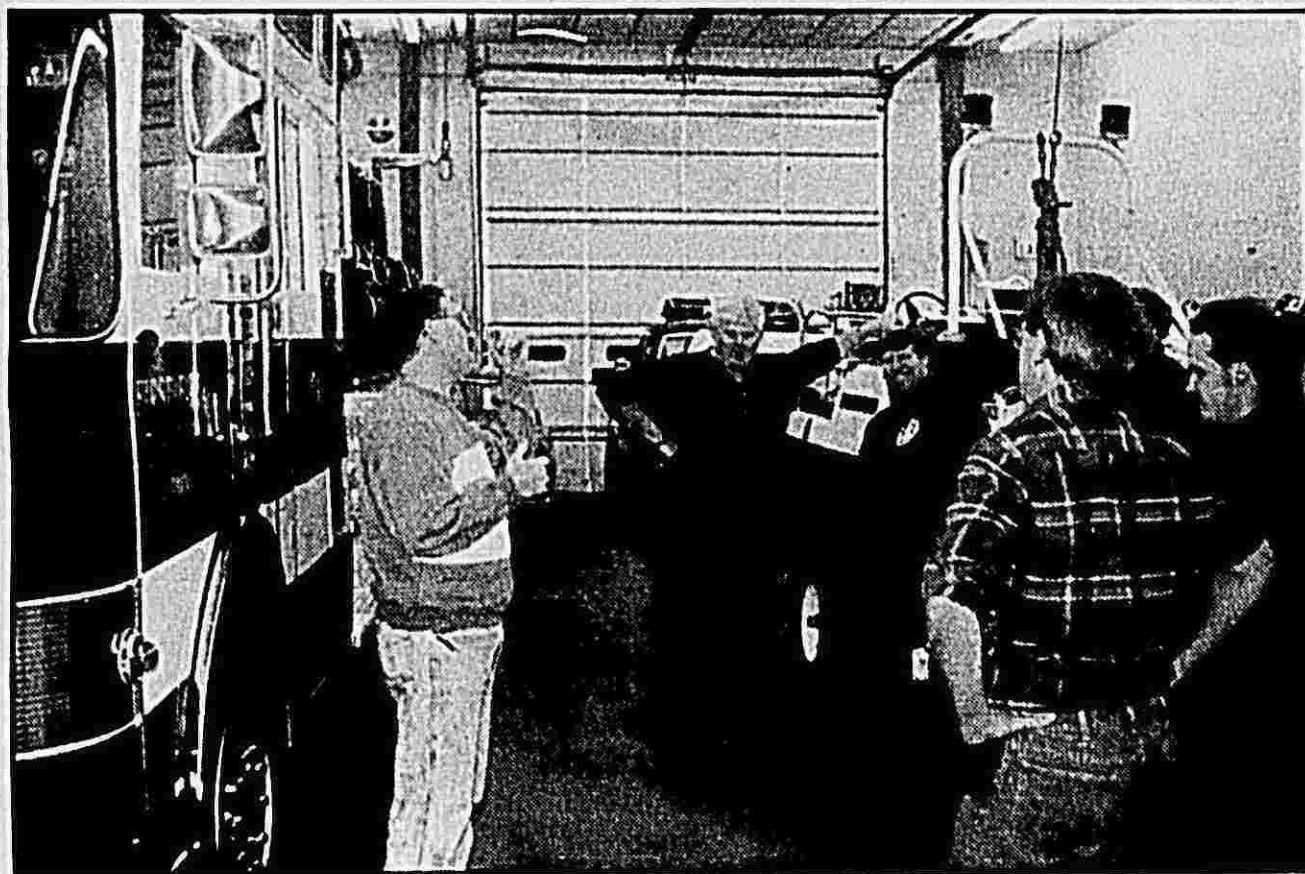

Jack Birren did a fantastic job with the hoola hoop and the performers of the "Footlight's" lip sinc room were on hand to entertain one more time. It was super watching prominent business people turn into Sonny and Cher, and the Village People.

The main purpose of the evening was to recognize all the people who helped make "Footlights" so successful. During the course of the evening, Marie, discovered the "Footlight '90" committee has already began the plans for next truly enjoyed meeting all of the workers and if everyone had as much fun as her and Ray, then everyone must have had a good time that evening.

Wedding Plans

Grass Lakers, another one of our former GLS students is planning to leave the nest. Mary Ann Drinkwine is in the process of planning a Jun 9 wedding to Dennis Thompson of Antioch. While Mary Ann was attending GLS, Dennis was busy hitting the books at AUGS. Both Mary Ann and Dennis attended ACHS. The June wedding will be held at St. Peter's Church and the reception will be at the Holiday Park Resort in Ingleside. Mary Ann's matron of honor will be Judith A. McWilliams and her bridesmaids are Diane Propeck, Suzette Guanci, Carmela Lombardo, and Sharon Olphant. Dennis' best man will be Alan Haiseman, and the groomsmen ar John Drinkwine, Jasper Lombardo, George Nelson, and Timothy Thompson. Dennis is the son of Thomas Boskovich and Mary Ann's parents are John (Ed) Drinkwine and Frances (Chi Chi) Drinkwine. The bridesmaids will be wearing beautiful black and white gowns and the groomsmen will be wearing black and white tuxedos. After the marriage, they will be setting up housekeeping in our "Hometown." I am happy to hear you will be staying close by, Mary Ann, and I'll

Letter to the Editor

Community used?

In response to "Pupils Know More For Less," it certainly looks rosy from Dr. Skidmore's side of the fence; but keeping that low cost per pupil and better grades has come through sacrifices and hard work made by the involved communities and their families.

Two years ago the administration cried too poor - can't hire more teachers. So, to keep our schools going, the community sacrificed their neighborhood kindergarten through five schools, the children endure long bus rides and had to acclimate to new people and surroundings.

Teachers had to pack up and leave their rooms (some even their grade levels), libraries had to switch books with each other (some still not in appropriate grade levels), and families have siblings scattered throughout various buildings and time slots.

Now, less than two years later, the schools will be spending $105,000 per year on two counselors and one assistant superintendent. I don't know exactly how much teachers are paid, but at $20,000 a year that would be at least five new full-time teachers for the children. Am I wrong in feeling that our community has been "used"?

Lineup change, strong start propel Sequoits

Antioch Community High School boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser did make some lineup changes as planned and that, coupled with a strong start, allowed the Sequoits to upend a first division North Suburban Conference team Saturday.

Keith Walker, 6-2 junior forward, scored 11 points against North Chicago in his first start.

He also had eight rebounds and four steals.

Although Antioch lost that game 72-62, the Sequoits bounced back to edge Stevenson 55-53 Saturday.

"We got into a running game with them and were four-for-17 in the first quarter," Dresser said.

Antioch, down 23-14 after eight minutes, calmed down in the second stanza and won it 15-9.

Antioch, which improved to 6-17, 4-11 in the NSC with the loss, led 39-22 at halftime. Antioch outscored the Patriots 24-11 in the second quarter.

"We played probably the best half of basketball we have played all season," Antioch Coach Dresser said.

Carl Galdine led the Sequoits with 11 points, including five-of-six free throws in the fourth quarter. As it turned out, the Sequoits would need every one of those as the Pats rallied.

"Our bench did a good job," Dresser said. Nine Antioch players tallied at least three points.

Guard Tim Fox, a sophomore, turned in a strong game against the Stevenson press. He had just one turnover, the same number as the North Chicago loss.

Chris Coleman and Todd Wales led the Pats with 13 points each.

Stevenson did get as close as one point, 51-50 as the Pats took the second half, 14-6 in the third quarter and 17-10 in the final quarter.

The Sequoits are at Mundelein Feb. 16 before hosting last-place Zion-Benton Feb. 17.

Giebelhaus top cherry pit spitter in Wisconsin

Mary Kay Giebelhaus of Antioch, became the 1990 Wisconsin State Women's Cherry Pit Spit Champion in Fish Creek, Wis..

Giebelhaus in her first spit every posted a distance of 20 feet four inches to win the title of Cherry Pit

Spit Queen of 1990.

"When I heard about it," she said, "I thought 'this is hilarious; I'm going to do it.' Giebelhaus never spit pits or seeds before, but she has played the French horn and that may have helped she thought.

Giebelhaus and her husband have made frequent trips to Door County for the past five or six years, but this trip will really stand out. "You know," she said, "they even gave me a trophy for this thing - a nice, big one."

The men's winner, Rick "Pellet Gun" Krause, who is also the national champion, had an off day. His distance of 37 feet 5 inches didn't even challenge last year's state record of 47-11, set by Darrin Daubner of Fish Creek. Krause's national record of 72 feet 7 inches is recorded in the Guinness Book of World Records.

The Cherry Pit Spit was part of the Fish Creek Games. The games featured other competition; such as, snow golf, snow softball, mountain bike throws and ice drag racing.

Seeking parents for gifted program

Over the past year a committee of Antioch Community High School faculty members have studied the Gifted and Talented Education Program currently in effect at ACHS and have considered ways in which the high school can better serve the needs of these students. The committee has now decided to extend an invitation to parents of ACHS students to sit on this committee.

The faculty committee has decided to expand by three additional members. Parents interested in joining the Gifted and Talented Education Committee should submit a letter of interest to: Tim Noonan, Gifted Education Coordinator, Antioch Community High School, 1133 S. Main St., Antioch, IL. 60002.

Axton joins peer bankers at Washington Conference

Ted C. Axton, president at the First National Bank of Antioch, with a branch under way in Gurnee, was among bankers from throughout Illinois who re-

Ted Axton recently traveled to Washington for the 1990 Washington Conference sponsored by the Illinois Bankers Assn. (IBA). This annual meeting, consists of briefings and discussions with public policy makers.

The three-day conference included meetings with Federal Reserve Board Governor John LaWare, FDIC Chairman William Siedman, comptroller of the currency Robert L. Clarke and Jonathan Fietcher, senior deputy director of the Office of Thrift Supervision. There was also a discussion with Farm Credit Admin. Chairman Harold Steele, and a briefing by the American Bankers Assn.

On Tuesday Axton, as a team captain of other bankers, called on Reps. John Porter and Phillip Crane to discuss policy issues that effect the banking industry. That evening the Illinois Bankers Assn. hosted a congressional reception for the Illinois delegation and representatives of various regulatory agencies and other bankers associations.

The program concluded on Wednesday morning after meetings with Sens. Paul Simon and Alan Dixon. Dixon is a member of the senate banking committee.

Throughout the conference Axton and his fellow bankers emphasized the need to Congress to enact legislation permitting banks to be more competitive, to reduce the compliance burdens under which banks must operate, and to address the long-term issue of deposit insurance reform.

The Illinois Bankers Assn. is a full-service and progressive trade organization representing nearly 90 percent of the commercial banks in Illinois.

Lindenhurst residents get chance to speak up

by KIM BOLTON
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Lindenhurst will be holding a public input session this Saturday, Feb. 17, at 9 a.m. to discuss the implementation of a curbside recycling program.

According to Trustee Tom

Berger, who has spearheaded a joint program for curbside recycling in the Villages of Lindenhurst, Lake Villa and Antioch, and the Twps. of Lake Villa and Antioch, Lindenhurst would like the program to include recycling of plastics and yard waste as well as newspaper, glass, tin and aluminum.

As far as collecting yard waste is concerned, Berger said there are three options available.

1. The villages could mandate the program and charge all residents a set, monthly fee that could be included with their water and sewer bills.

2. Homeowners could subscribe to the curbside yard waste collection service. Those who chose not to, would have their own compost piles in their yards.

3. Special bags could be purchased for use by residents to dispose of yard waste. But, Berger warned, the bags are very expensive.

Although Waste Management has been actively involved in Berger's meetings and has been educating officials as to the options open to them, Berger said the village will take bids on the recycling contract.

It will not be known exactly how much residents will be charged for curbside recycling until it is known how many residents in the townships will commit to the project and whether the villages will make them mandatory. The cost of collection will be defrayed by a high number of participants and by two grants for which Lindenhurst is applying.

Berger estimated that curbside recycling without the pickup of yard waste will cost $1.50 per household. During the months in which yard waste is picked up, the program will be approximately $1 more.

Trustee Jim Betustak said that with a July 1 deadline for the cessation of yard waste dumping into landfills, recycling plans will be implemented quickly.

"It's time to speak up," Betustak said.

Fire startles 11 girls

A sleep over party turned into a nightmare for 11 girls from Lindenhurst and Lake Villa Saturday morning.

The girls, who are students at Lake Villa Intermediate School, were staying at the home of Janet Chingo, 1706 Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, when a fire started in the basement utility room. Many of the girls were sleeping in the adjoining family room.

One girl, who had woken up to use the bathroom, noticed a glow through the wall.

By the time emergency vehicles arrived, the girls and Chingo had escaped from the home and were at a neighbor's house. No one was injured, but the fire caused $4,000 damage to the home.

Lake Villa Fire Lt. Bill Smolarchuk is still investigating the cause of the fire.

Doing justice to Lincoln

Three ranking legal officials were among the 300 persons attending the annual Lincoln Day dinner of the Grant Twp. Republican Club on Feb. 10 at Maravela's Restaurant in Ingleside. They are, from left, 19th Circuit Court judges Fred Geiger and Steven Walter and Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, right.

Deferrals possible for seniors

Lake County senior citizens who are having trouble paying their real estate taxes may defer all or part of their taxes on their personal residence if they qualify under a 1984 law.

Lake County Treasurer Jack Anderson explained the deferral is a loan by the state with a 6 percent interest rate to be repaid after the death of the taxpayer or at the time the property is sold.

To qualify a person must be 65 years old or older by June 1, 1990; have a total income of $14,000 or less; have owned a home in Illinois for at least three years; and must own the property which must be used exclusively for residential purposes.

Also, all previous years' real estate taxes must be paid and the property may not be income property. The total amount of the deferred tax may not exceed 80 percent of the taxpayer's equity in the property.

Forms for applications for the deferred tax program are available at Anderson's office in the Lake County Administration Building in Waukegan. Deadline for filing for the tax deferral is March 1.

Growth takes its toll

Lake County experienced major growth during the 1980s. On the surface, growth is a positive trend, but the underlying effects are starting to take a toll on the school districts which educate our children.

These underlying effects surfaced most recently when the Round Lake Unit School Dist. 116 Board of Education approved almost $500,000 in budget cuts last week in an effort to dig itself out of a financial hole.

If there is a positive side to this, it is the board's ability to avoid slicing any of the district's programs or services. For every positive, however, there is a negative. The bad part is the fact that the Round Lake Area is a bedroom community and there isn't a sufficient tax base to support the district financially.

Supt. Cliff Houghton said Round Lake is one of the few districts in Illinois that rely on so heavily on state aid. The fact that almost 75 percent of the district's education fund was financed by state aid and only 19 percent by local tax revenue is a serious problem in itself.

Enrollments keep climbing and officials really don't see light at the end of the tunnel. Houghton said if the district doesn't do anything to improve its situation, he can foresee a $9 million deficit by 1992.

The district has already failed twice in its bid to increase the building and education funds. Residents will once again be asked to approve a 75-cent increase in the education fund this fall.

This problem not only exists in Round Lake, but in other areas as well. Gurnee, Woodland, Grayslake and Lotus school districts also have failed to gain support from their respective communities at the polls to help ease the financial squeeze.

Gurnee Dist. 56, Grayslake Dist. 46 and Lotus Dist. 10 will try it again this spring with referendums on the ballot.

These districts, along with Round Lake, are banking their futures on the passage of these referendums. If they fail again, voters will cheat their children out of the education they deserve.

It will only be a matter of time before programs and curriculum are cut if these schools don't get the help they so desperately need. Our children of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. Let's start sacrificing a few tax dollars.

It's time to start thinking about the future instead of today. Perhaps if we had done that several years ago, our educational system wouldn't be suffering like it is today.

Another cross to bear

Those atheists have done it again. The Buffalo Grove-based American Atheists Assn. has won a federal lawsuit claiming the Zion city seal is unconstitutional. It includes religious symbols.

The seal has a cross, dove of peace and small banner with the words, "God reigns."

City officials say these trace their roots to the Christian Catholic Church founded in 1900 in Zion City by John Alexander Dowie.

God bless Mayor Adeline Geo-Karis. She will recommend the case be appealed to the U.S. Appellate Court.

That's what Mundelein did in 1988 after the same atheists won a lower court decision that the village hall nativity display violated the separation of church and state. Mundelein won and the nativity display is back.

During Christmas 1989 the same atheists claimed a lighted cross on the Wauconda water tower was no more than a religious display. The village took it down, but townspeople retaliated with hundreds of crosses on their front lawns.

All of which makes a thinking person wonder what is going on. Robert Sherman, the local spokesman for the American Atheists, is so disliked and rejected the only time anyone listens is in court.

Zion, of all places, and Geo-Karis with her long-standing municipal law practice, aren't about to mix church and state. The people of Zion are as law abiding and God fearing as those of Mundelein, Wauconda or elsewhere in this world.

They certainly don't need some publicity-seeking atheist trying to nail them to a figurative cross.

And next Sunday, when they go to church, maybe they can offer a collective prayer for Sherman. Pray that someday he may come to appreciate what 90-year-old city seals, age-old nativity displays and centuries-old lighted crosses are all about.

Tail could wag GOP

For the first time in the history of the Lake County Republican party there is an honest to goodness election campaign headquarters. Gone are the days of trooping to the storefront party office on County St. in Waukegan to pick up literature, volunteer or talk politics.

As of this month that can be done at the party's new campaign headquarters in downtown Libertyville. The spacious building is a former automobile dealership. It is hard to mistake. In the window are huge banners promoting Robert Depke of Warren Twp. and Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton for the County Board in Dist. 5, which is where the headquarters is located.

Although few other candidates are being pushed in a similar fashion, county GOP Chairman Robert Neal says this is a location where all candidates can rally.

Neal is particularly proud of the headquarters. "It is something toward which I have worked since becoming chairman eight years ago," he noted. This is admirable.

Somewhat disturbing, though, is how this office is being financed. Although the party has more than ample funds for such an undertaking, the idea has never been formally considered by the governing Central Committee.

The headquarters is being funded through donations to Neal's own political campaign committee and the Libertyville-based Taxpayers for Good Government.

The headquarters is the same location used by the Taxpayers for Good Government when its hand-picked candidate, Ralph Swank Jr., defeated long-time incumbent Libertyville Twp. Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham last March. It is the financial strength of this organization and its avowed interest in defeating him again that prevented Graham from running this spring for re-election to the County Board.

Taxpayers for Good Government is supported, in part, by the development interests. This alliance is aimed at defeating the open-space advocates on the County Board.

To have the Republican Party of Lake County accept this type of support smacks of more than politics. Six weeks from now voters will pick candidates for the November election.

Taxpayers for Good Government have a vested interest in this election, particularly in the Dist. 5 County Board race, where it tasted success last March. It was evident at that time money buys elections.

All of which points to a growing force in west Lake County. Under such financial pressure can the Republican Party of Lake County remain the party of Lincoln? Or will it bow to moneyed interests desirous of building a new power base?

Letters To The Editor

Protect Property Owners

Editor: It would appear that some school officials are finally assuming responsibility for protecting property owners from the economic ravages of uncontrolled residential development.

Recent correspondence from one area school superintendent has called for upscaled low density housing. One Lindenhurst board member inquired as to what the taxes would be on a proposed $300,000 home in this area. The answer came as over $9,000! The next question is who would be willing to pay $800 per month in taxes? That is precisely what some Lindenhurst residents are now facing.

Reports this week indicated the formation of a "committee" to review the growth impact on the Antioch Community High School. While at first glance this would seem reasonable, a review of the people comprising this group may leave some residents cautiously optimistic. Finding on this list the very people who sit on the Lindenhurst Planning Commission and have rubber stamped much of the unwise Lindenhurst Development is less than comforting.

Perhaps more disturbing is to find the current Lindenhurst Village attorney on this committee. This individual has repeatedly discouraged the village board from adopting proper impact fees. This inflated both developer profits and property taxes. Further this individual served as school board president and finance chairman in Millburn. The collective effects of this man's actions in these capacities has resulted in one of the highest school tax rates in the state. And now he intends to "guide" the Antioch high school?

The residents of this district had better hang on to their wallets and write Antioch Supt. Gary Allen to voice their concern. Some of the people on this committee have already demonstrated their actions and advice lead only to more taxes and economic devastation for thousands of area residents.

Apology in order

Editor:

I really think Bob Neal owes the Grant Twp. Republican Club an apology.

With my running mate Robert Boness and I in attendance, he selected their fine Lincoln Day Dinner to display his art of political hack-ism to publicly endorse our opponents.

He read a trumped up "letter" from another of his cronies, Joanne Osmond, to say that she had polled the precinct organizations and that yes, they indeed were endorsing our opponents.

He truly spoiled an outstanding evening.

The historic Lincoln Day event is something anticipated by office holders and hopefuls statewide, and was keynoted by the leader of the 1990 Republican ticket, Lynn Martin of Rockford.

We all paid our ticket price, and we are all Republicans. But, that doesn't matter to Lake County's "No. 1" Good Old Boy--at the cost of embarrassing the organizers of the evening and the dedicated candidates, he dipped to a new low.

Robert Boness and I will do a good job when elected, and it will not be because we got help from those "good republicans" led by Mr. Neal.

I didn't think his job was to create enemies. But, it certainly helps the voters know who's going to owe who when the March 20 primary is history.

Robert Boness and Larry Leafblad will owe their election to the people. Not hacks like Bob Neal.

10 letters missing

Editor:

What protection do we tax payers have from the Post Office?

I mailed 17 letters Oct. 10, 1989. Seven were delivered and 10 were lost, or no one knows what happened to them. Those 10 that are missing were checks for my monthly bills. Neither the Post Office or the Post Master of Lake Villa didn't do anything. They gave me 10 questionnaires to fill out. I did. I wondered what happened to them?

In October of 1988 I was waiting for a check to pay for my daughter's funeral and I received it July 1989, it was mailed from Deerfield, Ill.

You say stop payment, the bank charges $15 per check to stop payment. I couldn't afford to do so. No one wants to help me. Seven letters were delivered, where are the other 10.

I went back to the Lake Villa Post Office Jan. 31, 1990 and asked what progress was made in locating the 10 letters? The clerk took my name and telephone number and said she would talk to the supervisor. I even talked to the police, nothing!

Yet they want to increase our postage from 25 cents to 30 cents. What for? They need an efficiency expert to clean up the mess, or maybe sweep the floors.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

After four years of collecting almost $20,000 annually as a County Board member, Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich has a new car. Actually, it is a new old car. Hansen watchers think it is another used Lincoln.

But it is a couple of years better than his other Lincoln. That car, described as a rolling wreck by Hansen watchers, had a missing back bumper for most of its days. There were a few other imperfections like dents, rust and faded paint.

The back seat of Hansen's cars serve as his office. The one in his former car was filled with a disarray of papers, notes, old campaign signs and more. The Hansen watchers say even he was surprised at the things he found when cleaning out his old car.

Almost to no one's surprise, the Cuba Twp. GOP has endorsed incumbents in the Dist. 6 County Board race. That's Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and John Reindl of Mundelein.

"The committeemen recognized the value of their extensive County Board experience as we face the critical test of redistricting next year," said the man behind the Republican power in that part of the world.

These words were spoken by none other than C. Richard Anderson, township Republican chairman. He is also president of the Forest Preserve Dist. And he is a good friend of both Hansen and Reindl.

Only 6 of the township's 14 committeemen showed up for the endorsement meeting.

Attention property owners in the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist. Land for a new fire substation or two is now being gobbled up by this august body.

The more choice and expensive, apparently the better. Among parcels under consideration are those in the high-rent districts at Old McHenry and Midlothian Rds. near Hawthorn Woods, Quentin and Long Grove Rds. near a former Nike site under consideration and at Rte. 59 and Miller Rd. in North Barrington.

A treasury of almost $100,000 is burning a hole in the pocket of district President Dennis Abbott of Echo Lake.

Only trouble with the North Barrington location is that it may not be in the fire district. That area is in the Wauconda Fire Protection Dist. But it's a choice location.

Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer takes her job seriously. So seriously that she has decided to do the part-time job full time.

As of last month she could be found eight hours a day, five and six days a week at the village hall. She quit her part-time job as a bookkeeper with a real estate agency.

"With so many things happening I wanted to be here in the village," the mayor said of new subdivisions on the horizon and a 415-acre annexation battle with the Forest Preserve Dist.

The mayor of nine years was underpaid before at $1,500 annually. Today her work week of 40 to 50 hours averages out to $1.25 per hour.

Both sides are leveling accusations at the other in Lake Zurich's continuing village board upheaval.

Trustee Milton Faurot says Mayor Jim Kay and his Clan on the village board are destroying the outstanding work of past boards. "It has been difficult for me in the last nine months to sit on the dias with Kay and trustees Karen Demos-Rosenthal, Charles Siewert and Gary Winchester," Faurot said.

"He's trying to twist facts to make him look like trustee of the year," the mayor said. "Being part of the old system, Faurot has a hard time swallowing the fact that he is part of the problem."

"I think his credibility can be measured by his vote totals," the mayor added for good measure. Faurot finished third in the three-way race that brought Kay to office last March.

Wauconda Twp. has some hot Republican precinct committeemen races of its own. Of the 11 on the March ballot, eight are contested.

On the one side is the Wauconda Twp. Republican Club and its new president, Steve Barans, who insists party rivalries will be reconciled.

In the opposite corner is one-time township GOP Chairman Howard Bieze, who is active in the Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn. He has done a lot for the party over the years, beginning with an annual August corn roast politician wouldn't dare miss. But Bieze marches to his own drummer.

The March primary will tell if the feud will continue for two more years or the sides will, indeed, sit down and smoke the peace pipe.

This is the season for politicking—and promises.

Doing a lot of both is PR-man Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach. He is a March candidate for the County Board in Dist. 4.

Johnston is a former member of the Round Lake Sanitary Dist., which hasn't pumped an ounce of sewerage in years. One of its grandiose plans is for a super sanitary district serving west Lake County in place of the county's Northwest Sanitary Dist.

In making some Fox Lake political contacts late last month Johnston reportedly made an offer to a prominent resident of that community. In exchange for his support Johnston promised a sanitary district job. The man said no.

That means Johnston can now promise it to someone else.

Another big endorsement has come through. It is by the Republican precinct committee chairman in County Board Dist. 4 (Avon, Grant, Lake Villa and Antioch townships).

Their choice for two openings in the Tuesday, March 20, primary are incumbent Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake and Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach. Not getting the nod are Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake and Robert Boness, also of Round Lake Beach.

There were early reports the Avon and Grant township committeemen and Republican clubs were so divided no endorsement could be made. That turned out to be wishful thinking.

The endorsement implies a pairing of Kiesgen and Johnston. Kiesgen has denied this, saying she wants to run an independent campaign. She also wants to distance herself from a person who has a record of drinking and getting behind the wheel. She doesn't know if voters will buy that, no matter how much a roll Johnston is on.

OVERHEARD: Two candidates running for the County Board in Dist. 4 (Avon, Grant, Lake Villa and Antioch Twp.) are bartenders. Incumbent Charlotte Kiesgen is a part-time bartender at the Waltonian hotel-resort in Fox Lake. Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach is a weekend bartender at the Landmark restaurant in Antioch.

Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake has a nifty campaign gimmick in her race for the County Board in Dist. 4. It is a key ring with a miniature front page of the non-existent Lake County News. "It'll probably be the only newspaper to endorse me," she predicted.

Two candidates for the County Board in Dist. 5 (Libertyville, Vernon, Warren and adjoining townships) didn't get the courtesy of an invitation to the endorsement meeting of Vernon GOP committeemen. Incumbent Carol Calabrese and Libertyville Trustee Donald Coulson are wondering if the committeemen know their names are on the ballot, too. The group endorsed Warren Twp. Sup. Robert Depke and Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton.

Dennis Abbott of Echo Lake, president of the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection Dist., was overheard leveling some criticism at a February fund raiser for Sheriff Clinton Grinnell in Wauconda. It was aimed at incumbent Dist. 6 County Board candidates Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and John Reindl of Mundelein, the two who put him in office. "He's just playing both sides of the fence," said someone who overheard Abbott's comments. "His three-year term on the fire district expires next year and he wants to be reappointed." County Board Candidate Robert Depke of Dist. 5 also has a good campaign gimmick. It is like one of those "Baby on board" or "Mother-in-law in trunk" signs in the rear of car windows. In red, white and blue his say: "Depke on Board."

Republican Pride

Editor:

In response to the County Republican Chairman Robert Neal's statement that certain Republican office holders embarrassed him by their loyalty to the people who elected them to vote their wishes, I am replying to this inane statement because I am a Republican and have been one a lot longer than Bob Neal.

Question, if Mr. Neal is so violently opposed to condemnation for purposes of acquiring land why doesn't he take that same stance against IDOT, the Tollway Commission and various other state agencies. Answer, he is on the Toll Road Commission and has to answer to Gov. Jim Thompson. Incidentally, condemnation proceedings are as old as government. Like it or not...

Now the subject of embarrassment: The sight of the Lake County Republican Chairman leaving a County Board meeting (in session) and being followed by 10 or 12 of his minions, now that's embarrassing.

The visitors in the gallery on the 10th floor are subjected to this embarrassment routinely. What is even worse is when school children are in attendance at these County Board Meetings and view these childish acts - can you imagine the impressions they leave with? That's embarrassing.

Also, when the Libertyville Twp. Republican Committeemen endorse two Republican candidates for County Board Dist. 5 and the County Executive Committee (who dat?) overrides local committeemen and endorses two candidates - neither one living in Libertyville Twp. - now that's embarrassing.

Super Mom Can Have It ALL—

Just Not
ALL At Once

Editor's Note: The following article is the last segment of a four-part series entitled Is Super Mom Still Flying High? The series is based on working mothers in today's society.

by DONNA DUNCAN
Lakeland Newspapers

After a tiring day at the office, the Super Mom comes home to do more work. She cooks dinner, loads the laundry, helps kids with homework and runs an errand.

Taking on multiple roles as wife, mother and professional leaves a woman juggling her time and usually putting herself last. This causes much physical and/or emotional stress, burnout and worst of all - depression.

For the 1990's, the question is not, "Can I do it all?" but rather, "Do I have to do it all?" The Super Mom is finally beginning to realize she cannot do it all. More women are restructuring their roles with the thought, "I can have it all — just not all at the same time."

In the 1970's, women made strides fast, when the corporate and manager woman emerged. But that wasn't good enough. "We had to be a wife, mother and have a career in the 1990's," said Cynthia Kivland, health education coordinator at the Center for Women's Health Care, Crystal Lake. Kivland recently spoke to women at a seminar titled, "You Don't Have To Be Perfect."

"In the 90's," Kivland stated, "all that rapid change is starting to catch up...we didn't stop to think how the (multiple roles would affect us). I'm finding a lot of women want to drop out."

Many women physically cannot continue to keep the superwoman role and are willing to give somewhere. Some women switched to part-time work, while others put their careers on hold for a few years to raise their children.

Ann Cocks, of Libertyville, has stayed home as a freelance copywriter since her oldest of two children was born three years ago.

Although she'd rather work in an office two days a week, she can stay home and write ad copy and earn money.

"I feel comfortable at home and don't feel guilty. Freelancing gives me a connection to the professional world. I feel good after I've finished a job," Cocks said.

Pam Lowenstein, of Lincolnshire, returned to work as an attorney after her first child was born. However, her long hours and traveling were too hectic.

"With kids at home, you cannot collapse at night or on weekends because they want and should have your time,"

Is Super Mom still flying high?

Lowenstein added.

She asked to work part-time, but her company's part-time policy did not fit her needs. It stated she must work four days a week and be available on the fifth day, if needed.

Both women joined a nation-wide support group, FEMALE, which stands for Formerly Employed Mothers At Loose Ends. The group provides companionship and support for women who put their careers on hold to raise a family. It stresses sequencing their roles, instead of trying to do it all at once.

"I had to decide to either look for another job or leave the workforce. It was a hard decision because I invested a lot in my career as a lawyer," Lowenstein added.

A women's magazine feature alluded to women's desire to return to the homemaker role of the 1950's, where she delves into pleasing her husband and children. It mentioned she will burn her resume' and memorize all four Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles. Instead of idolizing Murphy Brown, she will look up to Wilma Flintstone.

I think I'm going to get my old job back. I need a vacation!

"No way," says University of Illinois sociology professor Barbara Reskin.

She said there is no indication the trend of women in the workplace will decrease. In fact, more will continue to enter the

"For many women, the earning power is too important," she said.

One woman at the Crystal Lake seminar said she went back to work to avoid being used by her neighbors.

"I was tired of raising other people. People dropped their kids off at my house because they knew I was home all day. I started resenting it."

Kivland suggested women need to assert themselves at home as well as at the office.

"We went back to work to avoid being used, but we keep being used," she said.

Reskin said support groups for stay-at-home moms, like FEMALE, are only a novelty.

"We're on a trend that's irreversible. Increasingly, more women will work outside the home. Given the rising divorce rate and the decrease in men's earnings, women cannot economically afford to stay home," she added.

Another force driving women into the workplace is the shrinking supply of people entering the workplace because of the baby bust, she added. Also, an increase in proposed child care legislation would partly relieve women in their search for quality day care.

"Employers would need to tempt women into the workplace. By the year 2,000, white males will make up only 30 percent of the labor force," Reskin noted.

In some families, women are trying to do it all, just not all at once," said Shirley Beckett, therapist, Family Service Agency of Northern Lake County.

In her practice, she sees women who stay home four to six months after a baby's born and then go back to work — but may seek part-time or job sharing.

Absentee voting begins for March Primary

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess has announced that absentee voting for the March primary election began in the county clerk's office Feb. 8 and will run to the close of business March 19.

"Voters who will be unable to vote in person on March 20 may apply for an absentee ballot," Hess said. "Absentee voting has become a much more widely used method of voting."

"However, let me remind everyone that there are specific reasons why a voter may cast an absentee ballot," she continued.

State law specifies the following seven reasons: Traveling out of the county; Student away at college; Disabled person; Celebrating a religious holiday on Election Day; Performing election duties

(such as election judge); Incarcerated awaiting trial; Serving jury duty.

Voters who wish to vote in person at the county clerk's office may vote Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on most Friday evenings there are extended hours until 7:30 p.m.

Voters may also cast their absentee ballots by mail. To obtain the application for ballot call (708) 360-5912.

Registration closes Feb. 20

"Just a final reminder that voter registration will close on Feb. 20," said County Clerk Linda Hess. "If you've recently moved or changed your name, you will need to re-register to vote in the March 20 General Primary Election."

"Please be sure your voter registration is current," reminds Hess. "We don't want you to have a problem on election day because you haven't updated your registration because of a change in address or name. Even if you just moved across the street, you must have your current address on your voter registration in order to vote."

"If you have a question about your registration status, call our elections department at (708) 360-6628," said Hess.

March 20 election judges needed

"At this point in the election cycle, we are turning our efforts to scheduling judges for the March 20 primary election," reports County Clerk Linda Hess. "Notices have gone to our regular election judges, and we are waiting to hear from quite a number of them."

"About 1400 judges have responded that they will be able to work on election day," Hess continued, "but it takes more than 2,000 judges to fully staff Lake County's 402 precincts. I know we'll be hearing from more judges soon, but experience tells us we'll be short 500 to 600 judges. So if you are interested in serving as an election judge on March 20, call our office at (708) 360-6632.

"Past experience also tells us which areas will most be in need of substitute judges," said Hess. "We can see that the townships of Vernon, Elia, Deerfield, West Deerfield, Libertyville and Shields will be especially in need of volunteers. If you live in one of these townships and would like to be a part of the election process, call us," said Hess.

Everlasting Memorials has that 'special touch'

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER
Lakeland Newspapers

There's really never a "good time" to be in the market for cemetery tombstones or markers. In fact, it can be a very emotional and disturbing process for most people.

Making funeral and burial arrangements after a family member or close friend passes away is a responsibility many of us try not to think about, but George and Lucy Piowarczyk of Everlasting Memorials in Wildwood have that special knack of taking the fear out of this very emotional experience.

In Wildwood since 1985, Everlasting Memorials specializes in personalizing inscriptions on cemetery tombstones and markers.

The Piowarczyks have been in this business since 1963. George came to the United States from Poland in 1962 and married Lucy shortly thereafter. He went to a special school in Poland, where he was able to enhance his skills in the areas of carving and drawing. "My goal was to bring my skills to the United States and to run my own business so I could utilize those skills," he said.

In 1963, George bought Chicago Monument in downtown Chicago. The Piowarczyks brought their business to Lake County by adding another establishment to the family name in Beuhler Memorials in Round Lake. Lucy operated Beuhler's from 1972 until 1985, which is when they moved the business to Wildwood and changed its name to Everlasting Memorials. George sold Chicago Monument in 1984, primarily so he could work with Lucy at the new Wildwood facility.

The Piowarczyks take pride in their ability to create more personalized, unique memorials for their clientele. "We try to involve the entire family in this process so we can inscribe something that resembles the person's actual life. We encourage all of our customers to take the personalized approach because it creates a more meaningful message," said Lucy.

Honesty and quality work are what the Piowarczyks feel have been the key to the success of their business. "There are a lot of other businesses in this field, but there aren't many people who have the talent George does when it comes to inscriptions," said Lucy of her husband's engraving expertise.

Engraving inscriptions on cemetery tombstones and markers is not the only way George utilizes his skills either, as he also carves special inscriptions on marble and granite buildings in downtown Chicago. He believes his ability to match inscriptions that were made 75 years ago gives Everlasting Memorials a unique edge over their competition.

"I've been in this business for 37 years, and I've never grown tired of it because each job takes on a different perspective. That's why we specialize in quality, personalized service. We realize what our clients are going through, and we want them to be able to relay their thoughts to us to help develop a meaningful message on the tombstone. We know how important this sort of thing is, so we try to accommodate our clients to the best of our ability," he said.

He added, "We don't look at our business primarily from a sales standpoint. We want our customers to feel at home when they come to us, where they will be able to tell us how they would like their loved one to be remembered. Our goal is to make each tombstone unique in its own way, whether it be with a special phrase, symbol or a design of some sort."

While George is busy carving and engraving, Lucy takes charge of the bookkeeping and sales portion of the business. "I think George and I make a pretty good team. We each have our own responsibilities, and we enjoy making people feel good at a time when they need it the most," adds Lucy.

The Piowarczyks, residents of Highland Park, seem to have made a successful transition since coming to the United States from Poland. "Business is going well, and the fact that we're helping people during a very emotional time in their lives makes us feel good about ourselves," asserts Lucy.

There's No Place In A Visionary Business For Blind Faith.

The blackout that should have occurred over northern Illinois last July 10th was averted nearly two decades earlier. That's when the decisions were made to build our Byron and Braidwood generating stations.

Had we adopted a wait-and-see attitude, and simply hoped for the best, your electric bill might be lower today, but so would the generating capacity available to serve your needs. We'd be struggling, as other companies are, to provide even minimum service during peak demand. And could be facing a construction program in the 1990's that might well be twice as costly as it was in the 70's and 80's.

Instead, while other utilities struggle to reduce acid-rain-causing emissions and build new facilities to satisfy demand, we have one of the cleanest generating systems in the world, with capacity to meet your growing needs well through the 90's.

No one is blessed with the wisdom to be always right. But it is our responsibility to foresee the needs of 8 million people in northern Illinois and provide for those needs at the lowest possible cost. When historians record the decade of the 90's, we believe we'll be judged to have met that responsibility.

Survey shows good growth for graduates

by SARAH NORDGREN

College graduates in 1990 can look forward to a job market much like 1989's — a year of good growth — with engineering students pulling in the highest starting salaries, according to an annual survey.

But the author of the survey said the 260 businesses surveyed were more cautious in their economic outlook than they were a year ago, with 44 percent saying they expected business to be about the same and 6 percent predicting a decline. Fifty percent said they expected a slightly better business climate in 1990.

"This is a rather unusual balance — a decidedly mixed outlook," said Victor Lindquist, author of the Northwestern University Lindquist-Endicott Report of 1990.

"Although there appears to be economic stability with limited growth, there is vulnerability in the marketplace," said Lindquist, associate dean and director of placement at the school. "If a decline in business becomes pronounced and widespread, there will be an immediate and sudden drop in job opportunities for college graduates."

The 44th annual Lindquist-Endicott report surveyed medium to large businesses and industrial companies. Among those surveyed were major employers in banking, finance, merchandising, electronics and public utilities.

Lindquist said there is "a rather good match" this year between the number of students entering the job market and the jobs available. But he predicted by 1992 there will be more jobs than students, because of a declining pool of students.

He said that on average, starting salaries for this spring's graduates would be up 3.9 percent over last spring, lagging slightly behind inflation. But he noted a new trend in which 24 percent of businesses offered signing bonuses of about $3,000 on average to students who actually accept jobs.

Students with engineering degrees can expect to earn an average $32,304 starting salary, the highest among their peers, the report said. Those majoring in computer sciences and chemistry are not far behind, with average starting salaries of $29,100 and $29,088, respectively.

Lindquist said the outlook should continue to be strong for computer science majors.

Accounting majors got the biggest percentage salary increase, up 5.8 percent over last year's figure to an average of $27,408, while starting salaries in sales-marketing showed the smallest increase, up .2 percent to $27,828.

Lindquist said companies are spending more money recruiting at colleges and universities and noted "a little bit of craziness" in which some companies hold college receptions complete with "caviar, shrimp and exotic pates."

But he said companies continue to seek the old standbys: good grades and extra-curricular activities. (AP)

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

The New York Stock Exchange and the National Association of Security Dealers do a good job of policing their members and representatives.

In the past several years, however, there has been a rapidly increasing number of salespeople offering financial services and products. Many are not members of the NYSE or the NASD nor are they subject to their scrutiny. Thus, the Securities and Exchange Commission is the only national agency capable of exercising control over this segment of the industry.

The Investment Company Institute, through its president, David Silver, recently urged Congress to re-evaluate the budget and level of funding for the SEC. Silver's concerns are genuine, documented and worthy of the interest of the investing public.

The complexity of regulatory and enforcement problems facing the SEC have increased dramatically in recent years. The SEC serves a vital protection need of the investing public. The Investment Company Institute recognizes the vital role of the SEC and should be congratulated for its positive-action position.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What can you tell me about eyelid surgery?

ANSWER: People who have surgery on their eyelids and tissues surrounding the eye do so for both health and appearance related reasons.

Due to the effects of aging or perhaps birth defects, the eyelids of many people appear to be "baggy" or to droop. For some people this condition may actually cause vision problems.

Other people have eyelid and eyebrow surgery to correct scars or damage caused by injuries or birth defects, to remove eyelid tumors, to assure the fit of an artificial eye or to accommodate changes in the shape of the eye and eyelid due to conditions such as thyroid disease. People considering surgery on eyelids, eyebrows and on tissues near the eye should first consult with an ophthalmic plastic surgeon.

Film Review

In "Stella," Bette Midler is back again, doing what she does best, playing the diamond in the rough with the heart of gold.

This is a remake of a 1930s Barbara Stanwyck smash called "Stella Dallas," which also became one of the best known radio soap operas of the 1940s and 50s.

In this updated version, the girl from the other side of the tracks is a female bartender who has a baby fathered by a socialite out of wedlock.

Of course she struggles to raise her daughter herself, only to decide that as a young lady, her father's way of life might be the best one for her daughter.

All this plays second fiddle to a top notch cast.

It is the performances of Midler, Trini Alvarado as her daughter and John Goodman, everybody's best buddy, that make this flick something special.

The relationship between Midler and Alvarado is so moving that few dry eyes are left in the theater, especially after the scene between Midler and Marsha Mason, daddy's girlfriend, when they discuss the girl going to live with her father.

Midler's performance plucks the heartstrings even louder than the one she gave in "Beaches."

This guaranteed tearjerker is sure to be more popular with women than men, but everybody should make sure they take a goodly supply of Kleenex to the show when they go to see this movie that we rate four out of five stars.

Be there

The classic rock band Blind Zone, featuring several Lake County area musicians, will be performing at the All Stars Sports Bar in Park City on Feb. 23 and 24.

"Murder at Howard Johnson's," an adult comedy by the Waukegan Community Players, will be playing at the Melba Wixom Auditorium of Waukegan East High School, at 8 p.m., Feb. 16, 17 and at 3 p.m. on Feb. 18.

From Feb. 17 through March 22, the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville presents Four Artists Look at the Same Model. Artists to be featured are Grace Havert, Mary Moynihan, Herbie Naumann and Joyce Thompson.

It's that time of the year again and if you can't board AMTRAK for New Orleans, celebrate Mardi Gras '90 at a gala dinner/dance and auction benefit for the Adler Center on Saturday, March 3, at Meadows 21 in Libertyville.

The kids will love this one! The 50th anniversary edition of Ice Capades, featuring the world's most famous doll, Barbie, and from the world of Nintendo, the Super Mario Bros., is coming to the Rosemont Horizon March 27. The show will run through April 1.

"Primadonna," a unique concert-theater one-woman show, written and performed by Mary Lou Fallis, will be at the Woodstock Opera House at 8 p.m., on Saturday, Feb. 24.

Painter, puppeteer Michael Montenegro and performer, writer and visual artist Laura Montenegro will combine their many talents to make the Zapato Puppet Theatre a truly unique experience for children, at 2 p.m., on Sunday, Feb. 18, at the Libertyville High School Studio Theatre.

The final performances of "Scapino" at the PM&L Theatre, Antioch, will be at 8 p.m., on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 16 and 17, and 2:30 p.m., on Sunday, Feb. 18.

Award winner at Marriott

The international hit 'Chess' draws standing ovation at Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre. Center, left, Kim Strauss, Susan McMonagle and David Studwell do outstanding work, both musically and dramatically, on Marriott stage turned into giant chess board as CIA and KGB get into act during championship chess match between Soviet Union and America. In background are the chess pieces that start moving as the game progresses.

Marriott wins at 'Chess

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Preview and opening night audiences have already been treated to the best production done at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre since the smash-hit "Matador."

Critics Choice

The international success "Chess" has taken Marriott Lincolnshire audiences by storm, with those attending on opening night breaking into a much-deserved standing ovation during the curtain calls.

Four extremely talented people vie for top honors in this story about a world championship chess match between the Soviet champ and the second place American who aspires for first place.

It's been a long time, if ever, that so much star talent has graced the Lincolnshire stage at one time. The cast of "Whiz" is the closest in recall.

The acting, singing and dancing prowess of the American, played by Kim Strauss is engrossing and spellbinding. He is as "today" as they come!

David Studwell as Anatol, the Russian, gives a laid-back, but captivating performance that peaks in the emotional reprise of "You and I" in the final scene.

The male leads are slightly edged by Susan McMonagle's Florence who has a love relationship with both of them.

Her edge comes by way of the outstanding musical material given her by composers Benny Anderson and Bjorn Ulvnaus and lyricist Tim Rice such as "Someone Else's Story," and "Nobody's on Nobody's Side."

Strauss does an outstanding job, along with the ensemble, with "One Night in Bangkok," and reaches the heights with "Pity the Child."

Marriott favorite, Susan Moniz gives a star-quality performance in a secondary role as Svetlana, the Russian's wife.

The duet, "I Know Him," which Moniz and McMonagle share, brings the house down.

Kudos to performers like Moniz, Dale

Morgan, Rob Rahn, Alton White and others who carry off feature roles along with a myriad of cameos and walk-ons with aplomb.

Put this one on your must see list, it's got everything, freshness, a great story, beautiful music, outstanding talent and --- what more can one ask for?

This one should bring some awards Marriott's way this season.

It's good to see David Bell back in the director's chair again, lending his proven expertise to Marriott's superb production. Of course the same goes for Kevin Shee's musical direction, always top drawer.

Seafood Lasagne

Fresh shrimp, sea scallops and fish are combined in this light, creamy seafood lasagne.

Serve it with hot, crusty French bread and chilled lettuce vinaigrette salad, perfect for buffet entertaining.

- 1/2 lb. lasagne noodles 1 tbl. oil
- 2 (10 3/4-oz.) cans of shrimp soup
- 8 oz. shrimp, uncooked, shelled and coarsely chopped
- 8 oz. sea scallops, uncooked and sliced thin
- 1/2 lb. fish fillet, boneless and skin-less; cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 16-oz. carton cream-style cottage cheese
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 1 lg. onion, chopped 1/2 C. milk
- 2 tsp. basil, dried and crushed
- 1 tsp. salt 1 egg
- 1/2 tsp. freshly ground pepper
- 12 spinach leaves, fresh
- 2 C. mozzarella cheese, grated
- Parsley, fresh and chopped

Cook noodles in boiling water with added oil until tender. Drain and set aside. Combine soup, milk, fresh shrimp, scallops, and fish in a saucepan. Gently heat and stir until the seafood is barely cooked; set aside. In another bowl, blend cottage and cream cheeses with onion, basil, egg, salt and pepper. Line bottom of greased 9" x 13" baking dish with a single layer of noodles. Top with 1/2 cheese mixture, all the seafood mixture and 1/2 of the spinach.

leaves. Then, add remaining noodles, cheese mixture and the spinach leaves. This casserole can be covered and refrigerated at this point. Before baking, remove from refrigerator and allow to stand at room temperature for 30 minutes.

Bake at 350 degrees F, uncovered, for 15 minutes - sprinkle with grated mozzarella cheese and bake 35 minutes or until light brown. Let stand 15 minutes to set before serving. Sprinkle with parsley. This serves eight.

Linguine with Fresh Shrimp and Asparagus

Thank goodness fresh shrimp is readily available now. Combining the shrimp, fresh asparagus and mushrooms with the delicate cheese sauce over your own homemade linguine is nothing short of genius.

- 1/2 lb. uncooked linguine or spaghetti
- Sauce:
- 2 tbl. butter 2 tbl. flour 1 1/2 C. milk
- 1 tsp. instant chicken bouillon granules
- 1/2 C. shredded Swiss cheese
- 1/4 C. grated parmesan cheese
- 1/2 lb. fresh, shelled, cooked shrimp
- 18 spears fresh asparagus, cooked and cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 C. fresh mushrooms, sliced

Cook the pasta, drain and keep warm. In a medium saucepan, melt butter and blend in the flour and chicken bouillon granules. Cook until smooth and bubbly. Add the milk gradually and cook until mixture boils and thickens. Add cheese and continue to stir. Stir in shrimp, asparagus and mushrooms; cook until thoroughly heated. Serve over heated cooked pasta. Sprinkle with chopped fresh parsley and pass the Parmesan cheese. This serves 4.

Hawaii for the adventurer

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

For many, thoughts of the Hawaiian Islands conjure up visions of lazy days of lounging under a palm tree on a white sand beach with only the sound of gentle ocean waves.

Well, Hawaii can certainly be that if you wish. But for the more adventurous, the islands offer challenges ranging from beginner to expert. Here are a few of my favorites.

In the expert category, try skiing (yes, snow skiing) down a 13,796-foot volcano! The "Ski Shop Hawaii" will provide you with the necessary equipment and clothing and transport you by four-wheel drive transport to the top of Mauna Kea (white mountain) on the big island of Hawaii for a five-mile untracked run. Contact them at P.O. Box 8232, Honolulu, HI 96830-8232, for more information.

Less challenging, but no less exciting is a trip by Zodiac (ocean-going rubber rafts) to the astonishingly beautiful Na Pali Cliffs on the Island of Kauai. After a voyage which includes crashing headlong into waves curling along the cliffs, you will arrive at one of many secluded beaches inaccessible by land. Contact Na Pali Zodiac at Box 456, Hanalei, HI 96741.

How about a guided, week-long adventure of back-packing around Maui or Kauai with a world-famous author and outdoorsman? You should be able to hike six to ten miles a day and be in good health. Contact Hawaiian Outdoor Adventures at P.O. Box 30697, Long Beach, CA 90853.

Whale-watching, anyone? Ocean Riders, Inc., uses rigid-hulled inflatable Avon sea-riders which, unlike the larger whale-watching boats, allows passengers to get right up to the whales. Contact Ocean Riders at (808) 661-3586.

Your travel agent can, of course, help you plan these and other Hawaiian adventures.

If you want to relax on the beach, more power to you. But for those seeking a little adventure, try Hawaii's rugged side.

Lakeland Newspapers Lake County At A Glance

McDonald's returns

ISLAND LAKE — After being rejected by the Village of Island Lake once, McDonald's Corp. received a new life when village Building Comm. John Ryan announced that McDonald's had purchased a piece of property on the southeast corner of Newport Ct. and Rte. 176, near the Island Lake water tower. The new restaurant would be on one end of a chain of retail and commercial establishments stretching from Newport Ct. to Roberts Rd.

Legion, Lions fight

LAKE ZURICH — The Lake Zurich Lions Club and American Legion will not be forced to pay more than $75 for liquor licenses after representatives from both clubs protested a move by the village board to raise fees for all classes of liquor licenses. Trustees voted to retain a flat fee for liquor licenses of $75 per year for both organizations, but to raise fees on four classes of licenses.

Driving range OK

GURNEE — A proposed driving range for Gurnee won a favorable recommendation from the Gurnee Plan Commission. The board was split on the recommendation, which allowed for a zoning change and then a special use permit. The vote was commissioners Don Rudny and Dave Barnett voting no, Commissioners Bob Amaden, Carl Cepen, Mike Hampson and Chairman Ty Aho voted yes and Don Robison abstained.

Tell tax group pact

GRAYSLAKE — Flanked by Grayslake Elementary Dist. 46, Grayslake Community High School and Grayslake Community Park Dist. representatives, Mayor Marv Smith announced a developer agreement for schools, parks and library districts in Grayslake on Tuesday. The unveiling at Grayslake Village Hall represented work on a $6.364 million agreement which includes donations for school and park purposes, cash contributions for school, fire and library capital projects, cash for land purchases to expand Central Park in Grayslake and assorted other developer donations.

PUBLIC NOTICE WARREN TOWNSHIP Lake County, Illinois Notice to Contractors

The Board of Trustees of Warren Township will accept sealed proposals for a mosquito abatement program entitled "1990 & 1991 Mosquito Control Program" until 8:00 p.m. on Feb. 27, 1990; in the office of the Town Clerk, Warren Township Center at 17801 W. Washington St., Gurnee, Ill.

These proposals to be opened at the regular scheduled board meeting to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 27, 1990 at 8:00 P.M. The program must be environmentally sound and effective, with emphasis on larviciding and the use of Bti (Bacillus thuringiensis israelensis) or an equivalent product equally compatible with the environment. Ultra low volume (ULV) fogging is to be used only when and where it is determined to be necessary, using an environmentally compatible substance approved by the state E.P.A.

The Town Board will select the proposal it feels will be the best all-around program for their area. The area involved includes approximately 60 linear miles of road and all of the unincorporated areas of Warren Township excluding the cities of Waukegan and Park City and the Villages of Gurnee, Wadsworth, Old Mill Creek, Third Lake and Grayslake.

Proposal specifications may be obtained from the Township Clerk. The Town Board of Warren reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, and to waive technicalities.

Appoints chief

LINDENHURST — After several months of searching, Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch has named a 29-year Chicago Police Force veteran to the position of chief of police. Richard J. Jablonski, 53, a husband and father of two, will be starting his new job Thursday, March 1, for an annual salary of $40,000.

Fatal Accident

INGLESIDE — Lake County Sheriff's police are investigating the death of a 27-year-old Ingleside man, who was apparently thrown off a car driven by his wife last week. He was taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry, where he was pronounced dead at 3 a.m. Saturday. According to Sheriff's police, Benning and his wife, Christine, got into an argument. She drove away from the house in a 1973 Oldsmobile. As she pulled away from the house, he jumped onto the roof. She continued driving on Valley Rd., where he fell off. She returned 20 minutes later and was informed her husband was hit by a car. No arrests have been made.

Body found

VERNON HILLS — The recovery of the body of 46-year-old George W. Wilson Jr., of Palatine, gives Lake County prosecutors direct evidence to aid toward the conviction of his alleged killers. Mike Waller, chief deputy of the Lake County State's Attorney's office said he may consider seeking the death penalty for Christopher R. Portels, 22, and Donald J. Bartels, 21, who each face three counts of first-degree murder and additional counts of armed robbery, armed violence and concealing a weapon. Wilson's body was found by passers-by Tuesday, as they walked past a pond near the newly-opened Toys R Us store at 555 Town Line Rd.

Matijevich to speak

WAUCONDA — Democratic State Rep. John Matijevich will be the special guest of honor at a fundraising reception for Kenneth Sjorslev, a candidate for Democratic state central committeeman (12th Dist.). The event will be held from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 20 at Elliott's Grand Hotel, 110 Main St. in Wauconda. The fundraiser is complimentary, but donations will be accepted at the door. For more information call (708) 526-5495.

Extend Orchard

ANTIOCH — The Antioch Village Board will be spending up to $1.5 million to extend Orchard St. east of Main St. to help reduce traffic congestion in the retail section of the village. The Antioch Shopping Plaza strip mall is located on Orchard. The extension plan came after recommendations resulting from a traffic study.

Grayslake to consider plan

The Grayslake Village Board will likely consider plans for the Cambridge Club development when it meets Feb. 19.

The plans and subcommittee of the village board discussed revised plans for the proposed subdivision Monday. The subdivision is bounded by Atkinson Rd. on the west, Washington St. on the north and Center St.

A revised railway plan was presented by Libertyville based Cambridge Homes. It includes a one-mile stretch off Atkinson Rd.

Jerry Conrad of Cambridge said the concept of the railway plan was to maintain as much privacy as possible for the homeowners.

Will they recycle?

LAKE VILLA — Lake Villa Twp. Supv. Sue Hanson said she is meeting with representatives from the 18 homeowner's associations in her township to obtain help in educating their respective neighbors on recycling. Hanson hopes a large number of residents will voluntarily participate in a joint curbside recycling program between the Villages of Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and Antioch and the Twps. of Lake Villa and Antioch. The joint program is being spearheaded by Lindenhurst Trustee Tom Berger.

Kids stranded

FOX LAKE — Three Fox Lake area

youngsters received a scare earlier this week when a chunk of ice they happened to be playing on east of Nippersink Lake near Skipper Bud's broke free from the shoreline. A 15-year-old and two 12-year-olds stayed on the ice for a short period of time before jumping off and swimming to shore. Paramedics attended to the youths and no further medical attention was necessary.

Hospital wins vote

GURNEE — Charter Medical Corp. of Lake County's plans for a 60 bed specialty hospital won a vote of confidence at a Gurnee Plan Commission public hearing.

boat show

february 21-25, 1990
o'hare expo center rosemont, illinois

New 175 Sierra stealing the show

Glastron Boat Co. once again proved its dedication to the boating public with the new 1990 Sierra 175. A full package of boat, motor and trailer for $8,995. The Sierra 175 comes with two power options, the Mercruiser 3.0 liter, 130 horsepower or the 4.3 Liter, 175 horsepower. Powered with the Mercruiser 175 horsepower the Sierra 175 will go over 50 miles per hour-the perfect ski boat, speed boat and overall family fun boat. The sierra style is comparable to none. "When you can get Glastron quality at such a low price, why look anywhere else? That's a bargain!" Glastron has been proving its quality for over 36 years. Boat sizes range from 16 to 33 feet, in bow riders, cuddy cabins and closed bow boats.

Performance minded boaters turn to Glastron without exception. The Carlson Signature Series line of sleek, high powered boats this year also added a new 33 foot offshore performance boat to its existing line of 16, 18, 19, 23, and 28 foot performance boats. Truly unique and innovative in style the Carlson Signature Series will not be beat on the water. These exciting sport boats are confirming once again that Glastron is out in front. The Ventura, another new line for Glastron in 1990, is now available for the boaters desiring a stunning, roomy, midsize cruiser with full facilities. Available in both a 20 foot and a 25 foot the Ventura line has all the conveniences needed for all day and overnight excursions. Fast, sporty and modern has always described the Futura line. Available from 18 to 23 feet in open and closed bow configuration, the Futura line is designed for maximum on plane performance. Different seating packages are available in sleek colors to match.

Marina satisfies boaters' needs

Located on the Chain O'Lakes, Portside Marina's authentic style gives customers all the conveniences needed in a marina. Sunbird and Glastron boat lines make a spectacular line up for boat sales. In 1989 Portside Marina grew to be the largest Sunbird dealer in the Midwest and the largest Glastron dealer in the nation.

Voted as having one of the top three launch ramps in the area Portside Marina also provides top of the line floating dock space and indoor storage. Gas pumps and picnic areas are all available for the convenience of boaters. New this year for Portside is the addition of a full service department accessible from the water and a new business department ready to handle on the spot financing when purchasing a new boat at Portside Marina.

Portside Marina's three years of business in the Chain O'Lakes area has proved its dedication to friendly service and family fun. "We, the staff of Portside Marina, definitely believe that we put more effort into getting our customers out on the water and having fun. That's what boating is all about!" To reserve dock space or winter storage space call Portside Marina at (708)587-2532.

Sunbird introduces line

Big on quality, more selection. Sunbird proudly presents its 1990 line at prices that are making boaters turn their heads. "We make boats like the other guys, we just don't charge as much" says Sunbird Representative, Tom Free.

Take a Sunbird for a test drive by comparing features to any other boat manufacturer. Sunbird proves its quality with the three year hull warranty and N.M.M.A. certification.

This unmistakable quality gives you more for your money. Great for skiing and inland lake fun.

Sunbird Boat Co. is represented at the Midwest Boat Show by Portside Marina in booth number 1355. Cuddys, Corsairs, Stingers, Open Bows and Fish and Skis will all be on display during the show. For more information call Portside Marina at (708)587-2532 or stop in at Rte. 132 and 59 in Fox Lake.

Lakefront dining

Mers Restaurant, on the shores of Bangs Lake in Wauconda, carries on tradition of fine dining in an attractive atmosphere in remodeled restaurant that started as a stage stop at the turn of the century. Family-run business is featuring 'Heart Smart Meals' during February, Heart Month.

Mers carries on traditions of great food, atmosphere

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

In the early 1900s, the Lake Zurich, Palatine and Wauconda Railway was served by a stagecoach stop on Bangs Lake in Wauconda that offered boarding rooms and a restaurant.

Thirty years ago, the Mers family purchased the building that had served as that stage stop and completely remodeled it, putting in large picture windows so that the beautiful view of the lake could be appreciated by diners.

This family owned restaurant is operated by Bob Meers, his wife Polly and his mother Rosemary.

Bob has taken over after being raised in the family-run business and receiving a degree in hotel/restaurant management from the University of Wisconsin.

Now also an entertainment center, with live entertainment every weekend, Mers celebrates special occasions like Oktoberfest with a two-week festival in October, serving a special German buffet. There are also Easter and Mothers' Day brunches and many more festive events.

Mers is one of the area restaurants participating in an American Heart Month program sponsored by Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan and Welton's Country Market in Gurnee called "The Victory of Eating Heart Smart."

Mers has "Heart Smart Meals" on the menu during the month of February that are low in fat, sodium and cholesterol.

Other specialties featured at Mers include a huge 22-ounce porterhouse steak and filet mignon for big meat eaters.

Seafood lovers will find at least eight seafood items including flounder stuffed with crabmeat dressing and baked Boston scrod.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Joyce Jillson

Weekly Tip: Moon in Virgo brings you back to your healthful ways. Clear out your medicine cabinet of any harmful drugs.

Aries (March 21-April 19) Method, organization and routine may sound boring, but they get you off to a good start. Be sweet.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Get your fill of play this weekend because you have a productive week ahead. Be wild (yes!) on Saturday.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) Make sure your home base is solid. Fun with Libra or other upbeat types. Others hold you to your word.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) Make the most of what's near at hand. You can fight the landlord and win. Saturday shows travel.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) You need hard currency to get through the first of the week. Follow the rules of social behavior if you want to get ahead.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Work conditions are stimulating but uncertain. Spending on luxuries is a temptation.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Personal advancement, though one superior may oppose you. Mental optimism reigns.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Friends either inspire you to new act of daring ... or to folly. Avoid spending time with underworld types.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Mercury's entrance into Aquarius early in week may bring travel and fascinating news. Submit material for publication.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Money from more than one source is possible. You can easily enlist others' support. You have a sexy weekend in store.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) The future looks brighter, especially if you are able to travel or get away. Forget about being emotionally detached.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) You begin to feel like your regular self. Inspiration and imagination can make you money.

If You Were Born This Week
Happy Birthday Aquarius! Much goes on behind the scenes this year, but you get support when you need it, perhaps at the 11th hour.

'Why Temps are big business'

by JEAN WALDOF
Blair Temporaries

According to the National Assn. of
Temporary Services, U.S. businesses spent $9.9
billion on temporary help in 1988, averaging more than one million temporary workers on any given workday. Five years earlier, in 1983, the dollars spent and number of workers were less than half that amount.
The temporary service industry is experiencing an annual growth rate of 15 percent—certainly a growth industry!

The cost of hiring and training employees is so great that many employers find using temporaries for short-term projects more cost-effective. Thus, lower costs and a more flexible staff are among the most important benefits to employers. Statistics show that temporary workers are productive more than 90 percent of the time, while permanent full time employees are productive about 65 percent of the time, indicating that efficiency is also a benefit.

Those who are employed by temporary help service
firms find many benefits: it is a good way to re-enter the workforce; to continue working after retirement; for students, to work during vacations and school breaks;
to bridge the gap between permanent positions; to develop and enhance skills (many services offer training programs); to work on a flexible schedule, a necessity for many mothers with young children, and a pleasant option for retirees;
and to try out various types of jobs before making a commitment to a particular job or employer. A recent National Assn. of Temporary Services survey found that 80 percent of temporaries indicated

"additional income" as important in their decision to become temporary employees, and 86 percent reported that they gained new computer skills as a result of employment by a temporary service.

Clearly, with increasing need for skilled employees and, in many areas of the U.S., a shrinking labor force, qualified temporaries form an important addition to the work force

25 YEARS OF DOING THINGS RIGHT

In 1990, we are celebrating Right Temporaries' 25th Anniversary. During those years, we have made great strides forward in many ways. We have grown steadily, adding offices throughout the Chicagoland area for the convenience of our clients.

We have continuously added to our staff of Temporaries (affectionately called "Temps") and expanded our training facilities as a means of benefiting the clients as well as the Temporaries themselves.

Right Temporaries, Inc. understands the growing need for qualified personal computer operators. That is why Right's temporaries are tested and trained on the specific software packages on the actual hardware. We evaluate and cross train our temporaries on actual keyboards and software skills for all of the leading word processing and spread sheet packages, plus database applications, so you'll be confident that RIGHT employees are qualified for your assignment!

In effect, we have, in a short quarter century, made the transition from typing and shorthand to word processors and computers—which is somewhat comparable to the advancement from a horse and buggy to the Concorde jet.

We are proud of our record of progress, we are proud of our Temporaries, and we are especially proud of the flow of favorable reports that continue to come from our clients—and, in fact, have been coming to us throughout the past 25 years.

When you need qualified temporary help, count on Kelly Services.

We'll take the time to understand your needs, then assign a temporary employee with the skills and experience required to do your work. Every Kelly® temporary employee is screened, tested and evaluated - even trained - before we send them out on your assignment.

Kelly Services to extend helping hand(s)

Charitable organizations within the Lakeland community always appreciate a helping hand. Kelly Temporary Services is extending thousands of helping-hands--in the form of temporary employees--to nonprofit organizations in the community and in communities throughout North America.

Over the past five years, Kelly Temporary Services has donated almost 124,000 hours--which amounts to nearly $1 million--to nonprofit organizations in the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico during KellyWeek. This year, more than 32,000 additional hours will be given away during the company's annual celebration of community spirit.

For KellyWeek 1990, the Libertyville and Waukegan Kelly Temporary Services' offices will provide 20 hours of free temporary help to two nonprofit organizations in the Lake County area, for a total donation of 40 hours.

Kelly is currently accepting nominations of local charitable organizations that could benefit from temporary help services in Kelly's more than 100 job classifications, such as personal computer or work processing, packing and delivering and telemarketing fundraising.

The two winning organizations will be randomly drawn from nominations made to Kelly Temporary Services between now and Feb. 23. Kelly will announce the winners during KellyWeek 1990, March 11 to 17.

Those interested in nominating their favorite nonprofit organization can call Kelly Temporary Services at (708)367-1144 (Libertyville) or at (708) 662-0770 (Waukegan). Deadline for nominations is Feb. 23.

Street Scenes audience one of largest in 16 years

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER
Lakeland Newspapers

It had previously been predicted that this would be a 'low' year for the annual "Street Scenes" at Carmel High School, Mundelein. However, when the final count was taken it fell only 40 short of being the largest number to attend this gala event in the 16 years of its existence.

Many feel this was, at least partially, due to the fact that Victor Lanza was a featured performer. The room in which he appeared held only 50 per show but the fans patiently waited their turn as they were apparently determined to see and hear this son of their beloved Mario.

"Victor was well worth waiting for," were the oft repeated remarks of both men and women. Victor not only sang but also spoke to the audiences and graciously signed autographs. Those who happened to catch Victor after the show seemed thrilled by the warm manner in which he listened to their stories of his father and answered their questions.

Besides hearing Lanza in the room, "Swingin' at the Ritz" the audiences, six to eight shows per evening, appeared to be genuinely delighted with the "Ritz" singers and dancers who performed in the same room. These included: Kim Murphy, Jerry Howard, Betsy Burkinshaw (soon to appear in the Miss America preliminaries) Hope Dittier and Maria Corrado, who also coordinated the show. Keith Buchholz was emcee for this room full of talent. Kelly Hodge, guest soloist, graced the stage several times Saturday evening presenting her rendition of Kansas City.

Many compliments were centered towards the musicians who so aptly supplied the background. Mary Ellen Martin, deftly tickled the "ivories," John Eifert was "hot" on drums, Bobbie Vale, not only played jazz guitar, but also gave a tender adaptation of "Misty" while Bob Zaun, usually at the acoustic bass, played piano accompaniment.

Each room was sponsored by a business that was given a "plug" during each show. The Ritz group performed a song and dance commercial, complete with Ace Hardware smocks, vests and caps that had the audiences roaring with laughter. Zaun, one of the musicians, and Jerry Howard, played the roles of "the friendly hardware men" with their sexy customers, Kim Murphy and Betsy Burkinshaw.

The chairman of Street Scenes invited the Ritz group to perform at their annual "Workers Party" on March 3. At this point, they must wait to give their consent until Victor Lanza and Mary Ellen Martin, who had previous engagements, will see if they are able to make other plans.

Seeking musicians

The community orchestra is sponsored by the Chain O'Lakes Creative Arts Assn. It is made up of musicians of high school age to senior citizens who enjoy playing in a low-pressure atmosphere.

Amateur musicians in the area are encouraged to join.

Rehearsals are held each Saturday from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m.

Lakemoor board delays decision on annexation

A decision on whether or not to annex and into Lakemoor that will eventually become one of the area's largest shopping centers was delayed when trustees could not come to a compromise during a four-hour session.

Trustees were expected to make a decision Thursday.

At the last village board meeting, several residents and trustees voiced opposition to the annexation of the 158-acre parcel at the southwest corner of Rtes. 12 and 120.

"I believe it's going to happen, with or without our cooperation," resident Don Cichoski said of the annexation. "I'd just like to see Lakemoor control it and not have to pay for it. If we have to pay for it, it's not worth having. We should control growth and reap some benefits from it."

Wauconda Twp. Trustee Joe Faul, who oppose the shopping mall project, said he is concerned about the possible destruction of wetlands that will be caused by construction.

"President Bush just told the Army Corps of Engineers to protect wetlands, and Homart (the developer of the project) is asking to move a whole wetland."

Faul added that as other areas that normally soak up water are paved over, there is more run-off, causing wells to dry up faster.

However, Village Atty. Michael Poper and Trustee Carl Thideman said wetlands would not be compromised. Both said the wetlands in question are of a low quality.

"Actually, the Corps wants, in the future, to create a bank of wetlands that could eventually encompass 40 or 50 acres rather than have little puddles all over the place," Thideman said.

Village, park board air views at joint meeting

Grayslake Mayor Marv Smith, seeking to clear up what he sees as a miscommunication, told park board members he has no intention of running their district.

"I'd like to clear up some misunderstanding. That this administration is for absolving the park district could be nothing farther from the truth," Smith said.

Smith was speaking before a joint Grayslake Village Board - Grayslake Community Park Dist. board meeting Monday at the Grayslake Community Room. The meeting was for elected officials of both bodies to discuss concerns.

"I have no desire to run the park district," Smith said.

The two boards agreed to set up meetings on Saturdays to iron out differences and exchange views. The meeting Monday was generally positive, although barbs were traded over whether or not condemnation is a possibility in the park district in acquiring the 43 acres owned by Laurie Epstein.

Smith also defended the village's resolution No. 399, which explained how the village would support the land acquisition. Smith said the resolution reaffirmed the prior policies and was "nothing out of the blue".

"Hopefully that's part of the past. We're here for the same reason," Grayslake Trustee Glenn Winters said.

"Let's hope this can be a start of more things to come," Grayslake Trustee Randy Bussone said.

During an exchange about the condemnation proceeding, Smith said he was approached by the landowner about a condemnation concern.

"She asked me for help," Smith said.

Grayslake Park Board President Jill Koch and Commissioner Art Gill explained plans for the Central Park project. The park's representatives on Feb. 16 appeared before the Illinois Dept. of Conservation at Starved Rock State Park to bid for a $400,000 matching grant.

Ball fields, a museum for the Grayslake Historical Society, paths and picnic areas are included. A possible pool could be included on the site as well as a community band shell.

Officials seek summer start for dental project

Lake County Health Dept. officials are hoping for an early summer start for its dental expansion project at Mid-Lakes Medical Building in Round Lake Park.

The clinic, located off Rte. 134, will be expanded to include an enlarged waiting room and increased dental facilities.

Officials have indicated that construction costs alone for the project will be approximately $100,000.

Grant Club selects

Grant Twp. Republican Committeemen have unanimously endorsed Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake and Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach for election to the Lake County Board in Dist. 4.

Kiesgen and Johnston are two of four candidates running for the vacancies in the March 20 Primary. The other two Republicans are Robert Boness of Round Lake Beach and Larry Leafblad of Grayslake.

The lone Democrat in the race for Dist. 4 representative is Julia Edwards of Round Lake Heights.

CLC spring enrollment posts large increases

The College of Lake County has posted significant enrollment increases for the spring 1990 semester. The total count of students enrolled for the spring semester is up 10 percent from 1989 spring semester with a total of 13,689 students according to the college's official enrollment report.

Full-time equivalent enrollment is up 8 percent over last spring with 5112 students, an all-time high. The full-time equivalent statistic, a key figure in the state's formula for funding community colleges, is determined by dividing the total number of credit hours by 15, the standard number of credits taken by a full-time student.

"These increases reflect a continuing demand for courses in all areas of the college mission," said CLC President Daniel J. LaVista. "We're very pleased with the enrollment increase we've experienced this semester." LaVista is quick to point out, however, that the quality of a student's educational experience is also of primary importance to CLC.

"We will continue to revise our student entry and registration process to meet student needs," said LaVista.

"In our teaching, scheduling and design of services, we are attempting to remain a student-centered institution." Enrollment figures were reported by LaVista in an all-college meeting held Feb. 5.

A breakdown of the spring enrollment shows that the student body is primarily female (7,496 students or 55 percent). Career and transfer programs drew the most students with 6,374 and 4,921 in baccalaureate transfer studies.

Warren girls overcome Mustangs' comeback bid

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

One thing was certain before the Warren Blue Devils played a girls sectional game Tuesday night.

To advance farther west than Antioch, Warren would have to overcome two top scorers.

It's one down, one to go.

Warren overcame a 20 point performance from Mundelein's Ashley Struggles to survive a 50-45 overtime thriller. Next, the assignment for the Warren defense was Laura Demke, who led Cary to a 70-67 win over Round Lake.

The game against the Trojans had a berth in the Sweet Sixteen at stake. Warren and Cary winner advances to the Belvidere Supersectional against the Rockford Jefferson winner Feb. 19.

"Against Cary-Grove, we better slow it way down. They live and die on the outlet pass and move it down the court. They don't set it up very much. They have a lot of good shooters and great quickness. Demke is another Ashley. She goes baseline to baseline," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

But Warren has been adjusting throughout the tourney, as they have played three close games to get to the round of 32.

Warren's Heather Olejcek adjusted well in the overtime period. After making six-of-seven in the fourth quarter of the regional final against Zion-Benton, she missed her first free throw.

"We worked well as a team and everybody pumped me back up," the senior said.

So seconds later, Olejcek stole the ball and then blocked a shot, which led to the key three-point play by Jasmine Strange, putting Warren ahead with :44 left 48-45.

Olejcek, after Warren effectively ran a delay offense, canned both free throws with 14 ticks left to extend Warren's season.

Mundelein and Struggles' effort did not go unnoticed by the winners.

"She is so quick, she gets hot and there is nothing you can do to stop her. I just try and deny her the ball. She does an excellent job for them," Olejcek said.

Mundelein Coach Perry Wilhelm, who saw his team fall behind by counts of 10-2 and 18-3 early, stressed the positives of the season which saw this group advance farther than any other MHS girls basketball team.

"This is the farthest we've come and when we came out, we were real tight. I'm really proud of the way this group played," Wilhelm said. Mundelein ended the year 16-8.

Warren, 26-1, advanced to the sectional final against Cary-Grove Thursday, had to overcome first half foul trouble. "I had to put our reserves in and they came through. It could have been disastrous," Campbell said.

Warren, whose only loss was to Mundelein, 51-45, was paced in scoring by senior Christy Baker and junior Strange, who had 13 each.

An early Warren lead of 20-5 after one began to dwindle in the second quarter. Warren made nine for-18 shots to start the game, but the shooting slump stated after a fastbreak layup by Melissa Webster increased the lead to 27-11.

A fastbreak bucket by Struggles and a 15 footer by Cindy Shark trimmed the lead to 28-21 and gave the Mundelein fans something to cheer about.

Mundelein continued the comeback in the third and fourth quarters, catching the Blue Devils as Struggles hit seven baskets before Shark's outside jumper gave Mundelein a 41-40 edge.

Mundelein, winners of the Libertyville regional, enjoyed a three-point lead at 45-42 on a Lisa Kristofferson hoop with 3:07 left.

Mundelein had a chance to extend the margin to five, but Webster picked up a loose ball with 2:19 left. "She dove for the ball. Plays like that don't go in the box score. But she is a great defensive player. She has a lot of black and blue marks at the end of the season. We have depended on defense all year and she has been a major factor," Campbell said of the senior.

Webster, who also plays softball and volleyball for Warren, averages more than five steals a game.

Warren did have an advantage in the extra session as Struggles fouled out. After an early miss, the Mustangs were held without a shot.

"I have to give these kids a lot of credit. I have to be awfully proud of them the way they came back. They could have easily folded," Campbell said.

Cary answers RL rally

It is a name and number Round Lake girls basketball players and coaches probably would not like brought up in conversation.

But on Tuesday, at least in Cary, she was the talk of the town.

It seemed timely that Laura Demke, stepped to the free throw line with 17 seconds left for the Cary-Grove girls basketball team.

For Demke, a 5-6 senior guard, had been a thorn in Round Lake's side all night in the first game of the Antioch Sectional. Demke sank both free throws - two of her 19 points, the first hitting the left side of the rim before bouncing in, the second a perfect swish.

The 70-67 Cary win ended a memorable Round Lake season which included a regional title and a perfect Northwest Suburban Conference record.

"They did everything they needed to down the stretch. They went to the boards aggressively. We were fortunate to get away with a win," Cary-Grove Coach Gary Wadlington said.

Round Lake, 24-3, had staged a valiant comeback to come to within one point, 68-67 and even had a chance to take the lead in the final seconds of the fourth quarter.

Demke was aided with 18 points by center Michelle Thomas.

Round Lake, which won its own regional, was behind since the opening tip-off as the Trojans enjoyed an 8-1 lead and 19-7. An offensive rebound basket by Amy Nelson gave the Trojans a 25-13 lead after one.

Round Lake started to make moves at the Trojan lead, but could not get over the hump. Cases in point.

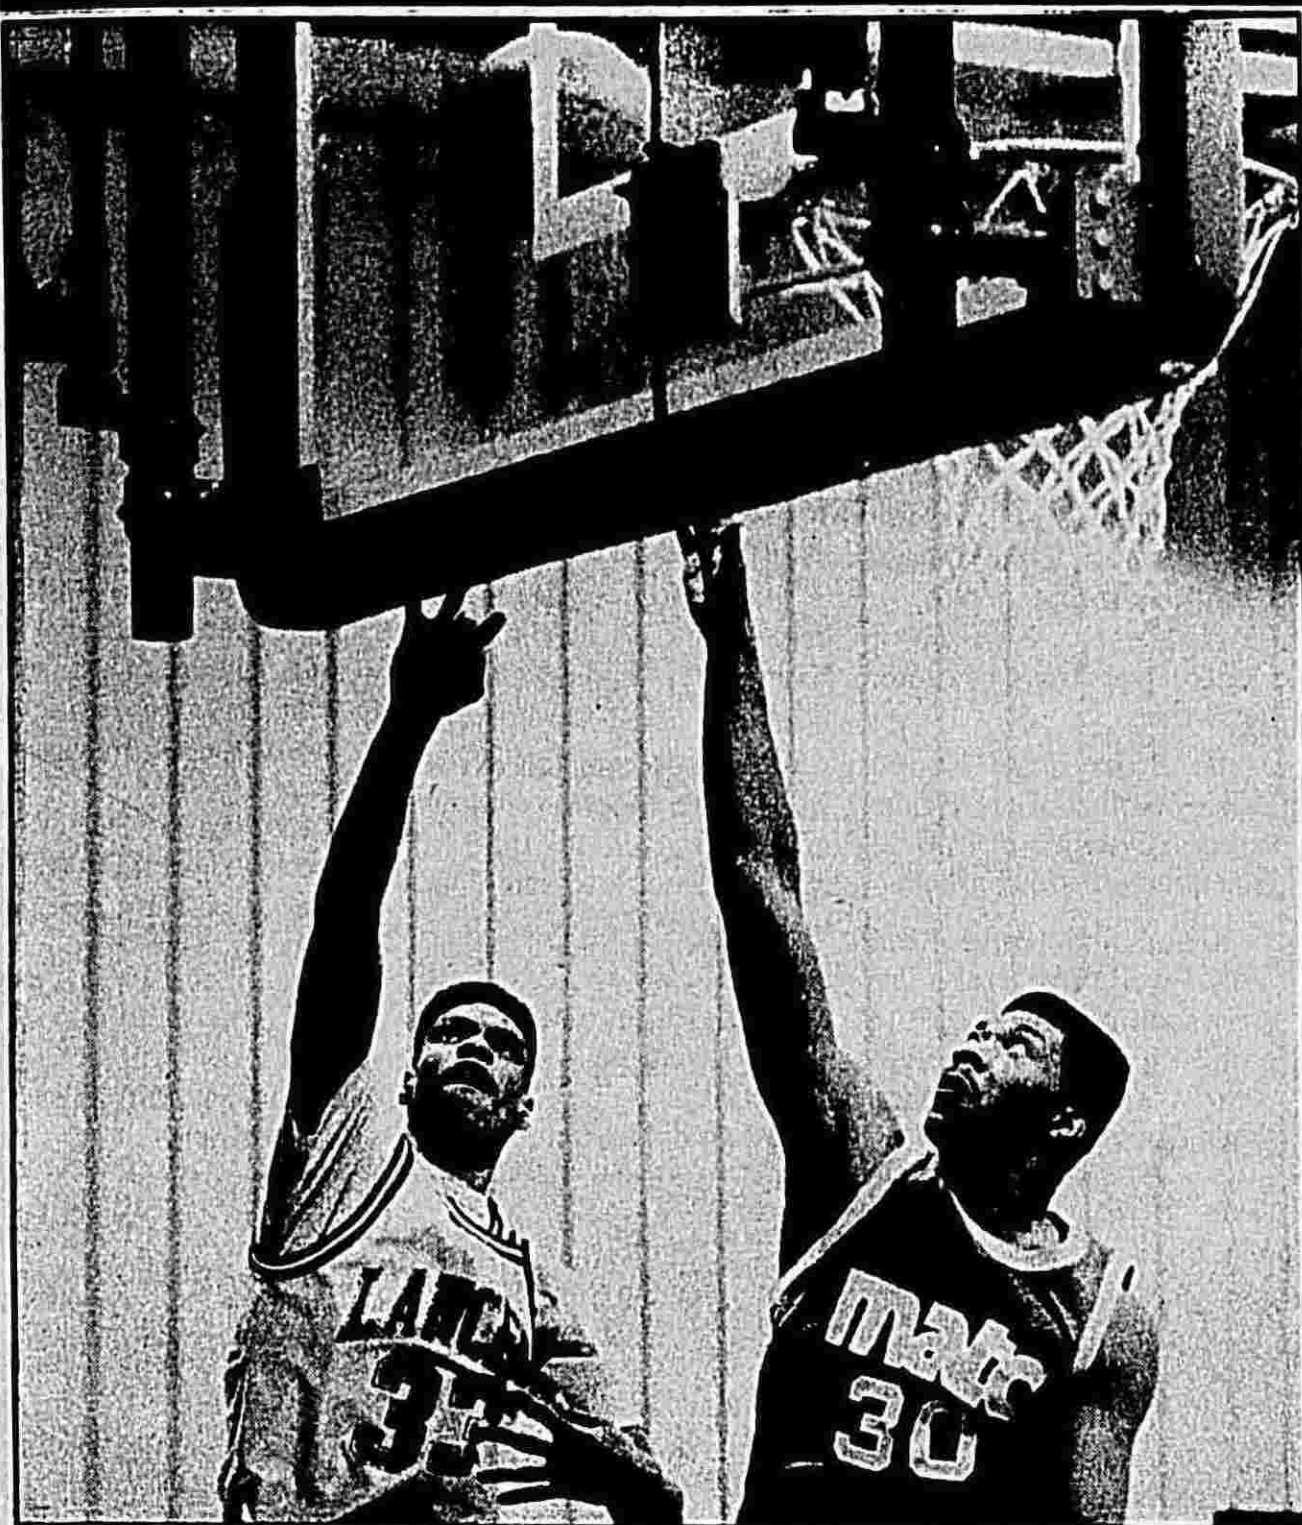

-A basket by Charlene Bostick, who had six points, cuts the lead to eight and caps a five-for-nine shooting run with three minutes to go in the second quarter.

-The Cary response: a 7-1 spurt which opens up a 41-29 halftime lead, capped by a three-pointer by Demke.

-Two layups by Cyndie Donner, who had 29 points, trimmed the lead to seven.

But Donner, who was co-MVP in the NWSC, got the sizeable Round Lake following going when she canned a basket with :45 to go.

Donner, LuPori claim co-MVP loop accolades

Round Lake's Cyndie Donner and Grayslake's Chris Lupori may have been on teams at the opposite end of the Northwest Suburban Conference standings, but they had something in common Saturday.

The two seniors shared honors in the NWSC co-Most Valuable player honors voted by conference coaches at Wauconda.

Donner was joined by teammate Charlene Bostic, a junior, on the unanimous selection list.

Others unanimous choices were: Wauconda's Andrea Howard and Sheri Cermak, both seniors; Grant's Amy Nelson; Lake Zurich's Tricia Znorski, and Marengo's Kathy Berchet.

Cindy Snetsinger, a senior from Lake Zurich, Angie Schiller, a junior from Marengo, Liz Nicks, a junior from Johnsburg and Marian Central senior Dawn Valinskas also made the team.

On the all-conference special mention list were: Grant's Tammy Fischer and Jenny Loring, a junior and senior; Johnsburg's Holy Holy Bauer; Marian Central's Aimee Hoscheit, a senior.

Round Lake junior Kerry Scharfenorth, a junior and Angie Nichols, a senior, also made the list.

In final standings, Round Lake won the varsity title with a perfect 14-0 mark. Wauconda won the battle strong teams for next year's varsity, as they were 13-1 and 12-2, respectively. Round Lake was the only other team over .500 at 9-5 with Johnsburg and Wauconda at 5-9. Grant and Lake Zurich were 3-11 and for second at 10-4. Grant, Lake Zurich and Marengo were all 7-7. Johnsburg and Marian Central were 4-10 and Grayslake was last at 3-11.

On the sophomore level, Marian Central and Marengo both look to have Grayslake was winless.

At the freshmen level, Grant was a perfect 11-0. Round Lake was 7-4, Marengo 5-5, Lake Zurich 4-7, Marian Central 4-3, Grayslake 2-8 and Johnsburg 1-11. Wauconda did not have a team.

Carmel zaps Dons

Carmel High School's boys basketball team will be closing out its regular season at home aiming to keep the same pace on offense in the last two games.

The Corsairs improved to two games over .500 with a 67-63 win Tuesday over Notre Dame. Carmel, 12-10, hosts East Suburban Catholic Conference power Joliet Catholic Feb. 16.

The 67 points was a magic number for Carmel in wins over Deerfield and Notre Dame.

Against the Dons, a 21-point fourth quarter was the difference.

"We made a couple of changes on defense," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

Lake Zurich's Kraus gaining more confidence

Lake Zurich High's basketball team will be hoping to gain some late-season momentum when the Bears take on a struggling Grayslake team Feb. 16.

The game at Grayslake will feature a Lake Zurich squad which broke a Northwest Suburban Conference losing streak last week.

The Bears upset Round Lake 71-68 as Eric Kraus scored 30 points on 14 field goals, most inside baskets.

"Kraus and Todd Reid played well offensively. We were behind most of the game until the fourth quarter," Lake Zurich Coach Doug Cook said.

"We tried to trap him, but he shot the ball well in a 12-foot range," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

Kraus answered his 20-point show with a 37 point performance against Hampshire in a non-conference loss Saturday.

"His confidence has really come along," Cook said of Kraus, a 6-7, 210 pound junior.

Against Round Lake, the Bears put together a key six-point run to take a fourth quarter lead and hung on from there.

Mike Bragg had 23 points as a highlight for Round Lake, 7-4 in the NWSC, 16-5 overall.

"Bragg did an outstanding job," Ward said.

The win improved Lake Zurich to 9-12 overall, 4-7 in league play. The league win clinched the NWSC title for Marengo, which crushed Wauconda 71-25.

Round Lake is still hampered by injury problems as Scott Hall and Mark Dittmer are still out of the lineup. They were expected to see doctors before the Feb. 16 game at Marengo.

Ward said his team improved since a 60-48 loss against Johnsburg two days earlier.

In another NWSC game Feb. 16, second-place Round Lake is at Marengo. The Indians clinched the title last week.
